16 ARRESTED IN LONDON RAIDS

Held in Connection With Assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson

Every Step Possible Being Taken for Protection of Life in England and Ireland

Alleged, Slayers Arraigned on Charge of Murder—Remanded for One Week

LONDON, June 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Questions put in the assassination of Field Marshal Wilson have come into possession of documents, says the Central News today, discussing a conspiracy to take the lives of a number of prominent persons and conduct a campaign of outrages.

The two men arrested for the actual commission of the crime, Connolly and O'Brien, the agency says, are both former soldiers who have been living at Croydon, a London suburb. One was employed for some time as a night watchman in the government offices in Whitehall, obtaining his post there because of his army record.

HAGEN WINS GOLF TITLE

SANDWICH, England, June 23.—
(By Associated Press.)—Walter Hagen, the American professional golf star, won the British open championship today.

The final scores of the three Americans were: Hagen, 20; Barnes, 20; Lutichson, 20.

Barnes score for his last round was 3.

The Americans appeared to have won the field, for unless J. H. Taylor, the British star, whose outward mark in the fourth round was a 37, and Gas-lat of France, who had not turned in his score up to 5 p. m., should return unexpectedly low scores, Barnes will stand second and Lutichson third.

ANOTHER CALL FOR MONEY

City Departments Will Get $54,500 to Piece Out the Year

Money Will Be Transferred From Account Known as Prior Revenue

For two hours and a half last night the council committee on finance, Pres.
Patrick J. Bagley, chairman, discussed the question of additional appropriations for city departments and as a result presented to the council an order for $54,500 to be transferred from the account known as prior revenue.

At a meeting held a few days ago, the committee heard heads of departments who felt that more money is needed if the work of each is to be carried on properly throughout the year and it was estimated at that time that it would require at least $100,000.
The requests submitted totaled in the vicinity of $160,000.

AKS STRIKERS TO RETURN

Pacific Mills Invites Strikers to Return, Pending Readjustment of Wages

Will Ask Edward Fisher and Fr. O'Reilly to Confer With Treasurer Greene

LAWRENCE, June 23.—An invitation to their striking employees to report for duty with a view to the resumption of full working time, pending a readjustment of wages, was posted today by the Pacific Mills officials.
The mills have been kept open week after week during the strike but with only a small per cent. of employees working.

The statement read: "As was announced in March, it was necessary to reduce wages because of the business conditions then prevailing. These conditions are still unfavorable, but it is hoped that by fall an improvement will have taken place justifying the resumption of operations at the present time.

"The mills will resume operations on a full time basis, with the reduced schedule of wages now in effect. Beginning Oct. 2, the whole situation will be carefully studied and Edward Fisher, chairman of the state board of conciliation and arbitration, and Father O'Reilly of Lawrence will be asked to confer with Edwin F. Greene, treasurer of the Pacific Mills for this purpose.
Such increases will be made effective Oct. 2, 1922, as, in their judgment, are justified by conditions in each of our departments. If in their judgment conditions have warranted an earlier increase, this increase will be made effective at such earlier date as they may determine."

The strike in the Pacific Mills started March 27 and is now in its 13th week. At that time the mill announced a 20 per cent. reduction in wages.
Fr. James T. O'Reilly is chairman of the Lawrence Citizens' association, which was composed of seven clergymen, which formed shortly after the start of the strike, and which has worked to bring about a conciliation between the mill owners and the strikers. The committee was appointed by Mayor Mahoney.

MERRIMACK RIVER HIGH

The Merrimack river today was about a foot and a half higher locally than yesterday. The Locks & Canals took a reading of 52.34 feet at the Boott mills at 7 o'clock, and found that 35,800 cubic feet of water per second was running past a given point.
With no more rain the height of the water is expected to decrease rapidly during the next 24 hours.

ADVANTAGES OF A BANK "JOINT ACCOUNT"

Money Available—Funds deposited in a joint account would leave funds available not only during your life, but after your death, or at the joint tenant's death. In other words, joint account leaves funds immediately available for the survivor.

At Death—Whereas with an ordinary account none of your money is available for the family or beneficiaries until after Probate proceedings. Your wife or family (unless possessing independent ent. means), will be without funds, and maybe distressed until the court has ordered distribution.

To Pay Taxes—Often the Federal and State Taxes, which must be paid before distribution, are in excess of the cash left in an estate, thus necessitating the sale of securities when the market may be off. A joint account, if sufficiently large, may be used to avoid this disadvantage.

HARVARD WINS MORNING RACES

Win Both Races Over Two Mile Course—Yale Freshmen Crew Swamped

REGATTA COURSE, New London, Conn., June 23.—(By Associated Press.)
—Harvard colors swept to the front in the forenoon races of the annual regatta with Yale here this morning.
When the Crimson freshmen and junior varsity eights defeated their New Haven rivals in two races over the two mile course.

Rowing conditions were far from satisfactory, rough water causing the Yale freshmen eight to swamp near the finish line of the first race while the second contest between the junior varsity eights, the Harvard combination was so superior that the race developed into a procession almost from the start.

GOMPERS IS RE-ELECTED

Chosen Head of American Federation of Labor for the 41st Time

CINCINNATI, June 23.—(By Associated Press.) President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor was re-elected without opposition today at the Federation's annual convention. It was his 41st election to the office.

After the unanimous vote had been cast for Mr. Gompers, there was a demonstration lasting several minutes.
Then Mr. Gompers thanked the delegates and added:

"I shall endeavor to give the best that is in me."

The convention also re-elected James Duncan of Quincy, Mass., representing the Granite Cutters' union as first vice president; Joseph P. Valentine of Cincinnati, Molders' union, second vice president; Frank Duffy, Indianapolis, Carpenters' union, third vice president; William Green, Indianapolis, Miners' union, fourth vice pre-

LAND FOR HIGH SCHOOL STADIUM

High School Alumni Association to Provide Stadium and Athletic Field

Will Purchase Spalding Park and Part of the E. W.
Cawley Estate

The Lowell High School Alumni association met last night, and after considerable discussion it was voted to purchase Spalding park, together with about 10 acres of adjacent land, known as the E. W. Cawley estate, for a permanent high school stadium
and athletic field.

The alumni committee on a permanent athletic field, of which Bennett Silverblatt is chairman, recommended the purchase of the property on the grounds that it is the only available land for such a purpose at present and that the high school is in immediate need of such a stadium. On the assumption that he who hesitates is lost, it was finally voted that the alumni association acquire the property, and that a committee of nine be

CITY MEN SAVE MOTOR BOAT

Water Department Employees Rescue Boat on Its Way to Destruction

Logs and Drift Wood Tumbling Over Falls at Pawtucket Dam

Quite a few logs and considerable driftwood are going down over the falls at Pawtucket dam and some people along the Merrimack river are gathering their next winter's supply.
The appearance of the logs in the river is the result of the boom break in Manchester, N. H., a few days ago, and it also accounts in some measure for the driftwood.

Two men employed by the water department and working at the boulevard well rescued a motor boat this forenoon that was on its way to destruction at the falls. The men knew by the way the boat was twisting and turning that it was unoccupied and they put out in a rowboat from the boulevard pumping station and succeeded in bringing the silent motor boat to shore. The boat is a very poor one and is believed to have come down from New Hampshire.

Many of the logs are being snared in the vicinity of the Alken street bridge and considerable driftwood has also been taken by men who use long poles with hooks attached. All along the river, it was stated today, logs and driftwood are being snared and taken to shore. The logs perhaps will be reduced later and the wood will come in handy next winter. In one instance a pocket boom was arranged and the owner of the boom is said to have caught quite a number of logs and a great amount of wood. The work of snaring the logs is also being indulged in by men working from a wharf between the Pawtucket bridge and the icehouses.

DENTAL CLINIC CLOSED

Clinic at Worthen Street School Closed Today for Summer Vacation

Annually adding proof of its usefu-ness, the dental clinic at the Worthen Street school, connected with the department of school hygiene, today closed for the summer vacation. Although somewhat obscure, this most important branch of school and health work as carried on by the city, has developed rapidly during its nine years of existence under the direction of Dr.
Edwin A. Kent.

Few people realize the scope of the work being done at the clinic. Records are kept from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31 each year and these show that in 1921, 507 children of the elementary schools were treated at the clinic by Dr. Kent.
Work done on the teeth of these boys and girls included 1034 extractions, 416 fillings, 95 treatments and 729 cleanings. When this year's records are complete it will be found that even more work will have been crowded into the comparatively brief sessions held Miners Openly Boast of Part in Massacre—26 Detectives

Among Missing

FRONT—F. H. D.—OFFICIAL PROBE HERRIN, Ill., June 23 (By the Associated Press).—Official investigation of the mine war which killed from 27 to 45, near here, began today in response to insistent demands from Gov.
Len Small for action by local authorities when Coroner McGowan announced that an inquest would be held immediately and State's Attorney David L. Duty stated that a special grand jury would be convened following the inquest to investigate the massacre.

The state's attorney expressed doubt that any definite results would be obtained through the investigation, saying that it was virtually impossible to obtain evidence. He insisted, however, that every possible step would be taken and telegraphed to Gov. Small an official statement to that effect.

26 Detectives Missing CHICAGO, June 23 (By the Associated Press).—Mobilization of the 133d Infantry of the Illinois National Guard ordered by Gov. Len Small in a midnight message from Waukegan, to fight itself in readiness for duty in the southern Illinois mining region, began early today.

Gov. Small's order was relayed from Wm. Gen. Charles E. Block at Springfield, to Col. William E. Swanson, commandant here of the 133d, who set in motion the machinery for assembling the troops. Nine machine gun companies were included in the order, and the 133d Infantry also has a howitzer company.

The Hargrave secret service, which had 30 operatives on guard at the Lester strip mine at Herrin when that mine was stormed by striking union miners, had accounted for but four detectives, following the massacre.
One of these, Sidney J. Morrison, was known to have been mortally wounded. Three were believed to have escaped. It was said, while the remaining 16 were missing.

Blames Protesters for Battle SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 23. (By Associated Press).—John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, issued a statement here today blaming the "forces of greed that profited so shamelessly during the war," for the mine battle at Herrin.

Outrages Described HERRIN, Ill., June 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Herrin today remained quiet, after the wild disorders in which at least 27 men were killed and an unknown number wounded, when 4000 union miners and sympathizers attacked approximately half a hundred imported steam shovel operators and laborers working in the Lester strip pit of the Southern Illinois Coal company.

HOUSE OF THE PEOPLE Becoming Recognized Duty of a Self-Respecting Nation, Says Lovejoy

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 22.—The house of the people is becoming the recognized duty of a self-respecting nation, Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary of the National Child Labor committee, said in an address here today before the National Conference of Social Work, reviewing the progress of the past ten years in standards of living and labor. He cited the example of the United States, which has expounded the cause of housing as a matter of business.

"In the last decade we have seen the most successful business enterprise perhaps the most gigantic—the business of coining profit from the appetites of weak man—put under the ban," Mr. Lovejoy said. "We have seen in state after state, attempts to fix a minimum below which industry shall not be allowed to enlist the efforts of human beings."

"We have seen an epidemic of unemployment. We halt and stagger in grappling with the problem, but at least we no longer ignore it. We have at least discovered that the problem is national and that no one community can handle it alone. Also that until we learn to develop a relation between an industrial and an agricultural life, we shall continue to throw our whole labor problem out of balance."

"We have seen child labor lifted from the debates of the women's clubs and the protests of the poets and set forth as a national responsibility."

"We declare that in spite of the reactionary forces which still bind us to the past and the self interest that still works to disintegrate, we are headed forward and we shall see or at least pass on to posterity, the possibility of seeing how a nation can actually house and feed and clothe itself without making it the chief and consuming occupation of life and without destroying any of its people or any other people in the process."

BOY GAVE BLOOD TO SAVE HIS FATHER

PORTLAND, Me., June 23.—Transfusion of a pint of blood from his 15-year-old son, Patrick, is believed to have saved the life of P. J. Flaherty, a laborer at the Portland terminal company, after he had a continuous hemorrhage of the lungs for nearly 60 hours. He was reported improved yesterday at a hospital where three teeth were removed in an unsuccessful effort to stop bleeding from the gums, before the transfusion took place.

TO ESTABLISH LABOR DEFENSE COUNCIL

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 23.—(By the Associated Press).—With the avowed purpose of meeting all legal attacks aimed at labor unions, the American Federation of Labor yesterday added to its program for curbing the power exercised by the courts by directing the establishment at Washington of a labor defense council, composed of lawyers selected by the federation's officers. The council primarily will defend the unions against any suits that may be filed under recent supreme court decisions adverse to labor.

The program of four constitutional amendments, repeal of the Sherman anti-trust law and enactment of labor laws, which was adopted by the convention by almost a unanimous vote, will require years of campaign before adoption, speakers said in urging the creation of the defense council. The amendments include a congressional veto of supreme court decisions, the guarantee to labor of the right to organize, to bargain collectively and to strike, the prohibition of child labor and adoption of an easier method than the present for amending the constitution. Enactment of a new federal child labor law, and also a law interpreting the labor sections of the Clayton act, were included as part of the program. Approaching the end of the convention, the delegates set aside tomorrow morning for the annual election of officers.

G. A. R. VETS GUEST AT STRAWBERRY SUPPER

Members of Admiral Farragut camp, auxiliary, 47, S. of V., entertained the members of the camp and members of the G. A. R. at a strawberry supper last evening. The affair was held in Memorial hall and was under the direction of Mrs. Lydia Bartlett, chairman of the supper committee. Prior to the supper a brief business meeting was held and it was voted to hold an outing at the camp of Mrs. Sadie Sawyer.

"Sylpho-Nathol

is a sanitary safeguard"

"When you think of all the conveniences of modern housekeeping, it makes you realize how many difficulties our dear old grandmothers had to contend with. How they would have appreciated the help of Sylpho-Nathol in keeping things sweet and healthfully clean."

"I often wonder what Grandmother Pratt would say if she could see the many ways in which I use Sylpho-Nathol around the house. In her day, soap and elbow grease and untiring energy removed dirt and dust. But they had no effect on the germs which dirt and dust leave behind in floor cracks and crannies. Nor did they remove the unpleasant odors that persist so annoyingly in even the most scrupulously kept homes."

"Grandmother, and even mother, had to put up with these things. But modern housewives don't—that is, they don't have to if they use Sylpho-Nathol as I do."

Sylpho-Nathol was discovered by a prominent New England physician who realized the need for an effective household disinfectant and deodorant that would overcome the objections which women feel toward ordinary, unpleasant-smelling, hard-to-mix preparations.

Sylpho-Nathol destroys germs. Though 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid, it's as safe to have around the house as a cake of soap. It cannot hurt your hands nor injure household things.

Sylpho-Nathol dispels odors. It quickly drives them away when poured down sink drains; or sprinkled in garbage cans; or used around bathroom fixtures and as a flush for the closet bowl; or sprinkled in damp, musty-smelling corners. But its own faint, friendly smell doesn't linger.

Sylpho-Nathol is easy to use. A teaspoonful in a quart of warm water makes a clean-smelling, pearly-gray mixture that's ready for immediate application.

Sylpho-Nathol comes in four handy sizes, 1lb., 55c, 65c and $1.25. Most good grocers and druggists have it. If yours hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

CONSOLIDATION OF SIX SMALL UNIVERSITIES

NEW YORK, June 23.—Confederation of six small universities in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick to form one strong university at Halifax is recommended in a bulletin published yesterday by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

The six institutions of the maritime provinces which it is proposed to unite are King's College, Windsor, N. S.; Dalhousie University, Halifax, N. S.; Acadia University, Wolfville, N. S.; Mt. Allison University, Sackville, N. B.; St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, N. S.; and the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton, N. B.

The plan prepared after a study by Dr. William S. Learned of the Foundation staff, and Dr. Kenneth C. At. Sills, president of Bowdoin college, would involve raising $1,000,000 of new funds. Each college would maintain individual class-rooms and dormitories for separate teaching of freshmen and sophomores. Advanced courses, honor courses and extensive laboratory sciences would be taught in a central university by a joint board and partially supported by the provinces.

The bulletin maintains that the plan would permit the denominational colleges to retain and strengthen their denominational character, and at the same time offer their students privileges possible only at universities of the first-class.

Touching on general educational conditions in the maritime provinces the two investigators reported that educational policy was a political product, the effect being a spirit that education must "keep its place." A "widespread apathy towards public education" was attributed to Nova Scotia, where, the bulletin said, the universal attitude is to "let the government do it, instead of the healthy threat to put in the people who will do it."

These and other draw-backs, the investigators felt, would be ameliorated by the proposed amalgamation.

WILL HOLD ANNUAL MILITARY MASS

Full details remain unclear for in connection with the annual military mass of the O.M.I. Cadets on next Sunday, and these will be taken care of at a meeting to be held this evening in the cadet armory at 8.30 o'clock.

This splendid church service, one of the most important events on the annual calendar of the cadets, was originated by Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O. M. I., organizer and founder of the military body. The first military mass in this connection was celebrated a number of years ago, and the annual event has come to be looked forward to with keen anticipation.

The mass will be celebrated at the immaculate Conception church at 9 o'clock, and the program as outlined at the present time will include a number of excellent musical features. Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., will preach the sermon of the day, and will deliver the same sort of interesting discourse as in the past. The decorations are to be most elaborate, outdoing those of any previous undertaking of like nature.

Besides the numerous former cadets and present members, delegations from Battery B and the local post of the American Legion are expected to be present. It is expected also that with favorable weather the attendance will equal that of last year, when the church was crowded to the doors.

You Can Do It Better With Gas

Next Winter Gas Will Be "The Friend in Need"

Very few people have any realization of the condition of the country at the present time as it relates to coal.

With the strike of coal miners continuing from week to week, the coal shortage is becoming more and more acute, and it may be impossible to get coal at all when the cold weather sets in.

There is also a probability that coal prices will advance unless the coal strike is settled.

If this condition should be forced upon us, those people who have their

"Homes Equipped With Gas Appliances"

will be considered lucky indeed.

Next winter the All Gas Kitchen will be the ideal kitchen.

No matter what the price of coal is, or will be, cooking by gas is the cheapest method—because you can keep it down to just the work you have to do without waste; and you pay for just what gas you use after you have used it; not before.

We will be pleased to have one of our representatives call upon you without any obligation on your part, to discuss with you the best and cheapest method of conducting your kitchen. Just telephone 349 or 5986, and a gas man will visit you.

June Castleton Vanishes

JUNE CASTLETON.

(By N.E.A. Service)
BOSTON, June 23.—June Castleton has vanished, leaving behind her parents and to Dan Caswell.

June is a member of the "Sally" company—or was, until she spoke openly of her high regard for Dan Caswell.

Caswell is a Cleveland and heir to a considerable fortune. He married Jessie Reed of the "Follies" a year or so ago, after a courtship that warmed the hearts of Broadway.

The fires of romance soon burned themselves out, however, and Dan and Jessie parted.

But Dan kept up his friendship with other members of the Ziegfeld productions, being especially nice to Miss Castleton.

In consequence the manager of the "Sally" company—which has been having unpleasant times in Boston—gave Miss Castleton notice. Then she vanished.

Women Smoke Pipes in Restaurants

LONDON, June 23.—London's smart young women have introduced the fashion of pipe smoking at restaurants and cafes. The pipes usually are small and of rich briar or meerschaum with slender stems and gold rings. Virginia tobacco flavored with attar of roses or some Oriental perfume, is favored. The girls say they prefer pipe smoking to cigarettes because it is cooler and cleaner and doesn't stain the hands as cigarettes do. One noted society woman has a predilection for cigars and is not shy about smoking them in public places.

presented in the form of an emergency measure and the council took action upon it immediately. It was unanimously passed, thus assuring the development of Varnum park from its present limits as far as the common garage. It was necessary to settle this matter at once, for the board of public service had planned to have the buildings on the land moved back to allow for a 10-foot widening of the street. Under the present $25,000 order, however, the city will take over the land outright and raise the buildings thereon. It was pointed out that this process will not cost any more than the job of relocating the houses on a new line.

The mayor nominated Edwin T. Shaw as an assessor for three years and designated that he should succeed Daniel E. Hogan. He also nominated Harry W. Leavitt for superintendent of charities and Dr. William F. Ryan for city physician. All three were elected as per the usual custom.

Lawrence street, near Moore street, $3500.

Highlands People Interested

Twelve women, Messrs. Weed and Greene of the park commission, Albert W. David and William W. Dennett, were present as proponents of the two orders for additional playgrounds in the Highlands. A number of them spoke in favor of both orders.

Councilor Chadwick said that he believed that the time now is ripe to acquire the land in the vicinity of Parker street, before it is taken over for real estate development.

Principal Dennett of the Morey school outlined the idea to take land in Morey and Wilder streets, adjacent to the present play area of the school. He stated that next fall his school will have an enrollment of more than 1100 boys and girls and that adequate room for recreation must be provided.

Mr. David also spoke in favor of the order and said that according to present plans, only one house in Wilder street would be moved.

Councilor Cameron moved that the order be given to the city clerk to be advertised.

Another order was introduced by the mayor, in the sum of $4000 for the purpose of acquiring a small strip of land in Middlesex street, near Washington park.

Washington Park Entrance

Councilor Adams explained that a dilapidated house now stands on the land, as well as a bill board and that the plot is required to provide an adequate park entrance. This order also was ordered advertised.

Councilor McMeniman spoke in favor of the proposed order for land in Lawrence street and it, too, was ordered to be advertised.

By a roll call vote, the council unanimously voted to pass the order for $25,000 providing for acquiring land in First street.

Pres. Bagley read the mayor's nomination of Edwin T. Shaw as a member of the board of assessors for a term of three years and designated that he should succeed Daniel E. Hogan.

On motion of Councilor Quenan, the nomination was laid on the table.

Additional Appropriations

An order in the sum of $54,500 to provide for additional appropriations for nine departments and providing for a transfer of the money from the prior revenue account was accepted.

The appropriations to be replenished are the following:

Auditorium maintenance, $11,250; buildings, $17,000; claims, $7,500; employment bureau, $1,400; fire, $9,500; gold star mothers, $2,200; milk and vinegar, $550; law, $1,200; sewer, $500.

Five Jurors Drawn From Box

The following traverse jurors were drawn by Councilor Chadwick: Lafayette A. Dearborn, 12 Totman road; engineer; Frederick Lafleur, 1031 Middlesox street, no occupation; D. J. O'Brien, 90 Parkview avenue, real estate; John T. Ashton, 60 Orleans street, secondhand; Chester R. Smith, 230 Foster street, travelling man.

President Bagley balked a little when he received a petition from Solomon Robitsek relative to what he claims is an excessive charge being made by local dentists for the extraction of teeth.

He requested Councilor McPadden to read it, which he did.

Another communication from the same gentleman was too tough a nut for even Councilor McPadden to crack and Councilor Stearns was called in.

He admitted that he was not any too familiar with Hebrew script, but he would try to read the communication to the council. Councilors McPadden and Stearns, working as a perfect team, read the communication responsively.

Over-Ride Mayor's Veto

Pres. Bagley read the mayor's veto of the order allowing Spalding park to be used as a burial ground.

Councilor Gallagher said that he did not wish to change his vote on the order, and moved that a vote on acceptance be taken.

On a roll call vote, the mayor's veto was over-ridden, 13 to 0, with two absences.

The council adopted an order to borrow $1,000,000 in anticipation of revenue. The order previously had been advertised.

On motion of Councilor Quenan, the mayor's nomination of Charles L. Gallagher for inspector of wires, was taken from the table.

On a roll call vote he was elected, 8 to 5, with two absent.

For confirmation—Councilors Adams, Bagley, Gallagher, McMahon, McMeniman, McPadden, Quenan and Stearns.

Against confirmation—Councilors Appleton, Cameron, Chadwick, Moriarty and Sadler.

Nominations were read of Dr. William F. Ryan for city physician and Harry W. Leavitt for superintendent of charities. Both were placed on the table.

Hearings were set for July 6 on pole locations. Adjourned at 10:25 o'clock.

MOTHER, CLEAN BABY'S BOWELS WITH "CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP"

Harmless Laxative to Correct Little Bowels and Sweeten Sour, Colic Stomach—Babies Love its Taste

When baby has colic, diarrhea, food souring, feverish breath, coated tongue, is restless and can't sleep because of clogged bowels, just give a half-teaspoonful of California Fig Syrup. It moves the wind and gas and all the souring food, bile and poison right out of the tender little bowels, without cramping or overloading and baby usually gets peaceful relief. Contains no narcotics or soothing drugs. Millions of mothers depend upon California Fig Syrup to keep baby's bowels clean, sweet, and regular. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has full directions for infants in arms and children of all ages plainly printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

JOE WALKER'S PLATFORM NATURALIZATION COURT HERE ON THURSDAY

Favors Enforcement of Dry Law — Participation in League—Against Bonus

BOSTON, June 23.—Joseph Walker, former speaker of the Massachusetts house, announced today the platform upon which he will be a candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator in opposition to Senator Lodge.

Mr. Walker said the first issue before the people today was whether they should have a progressive or a reactionary leadership. He said he favored a rigorous enforcement of the 18th amendment and the prohibition act; participation by this nation in the league of nations; tariff making upon scientific rather than political methods; and full participation by women in political affairs and office holding. He declared himself as against the bonus or adjusted compensation and as standing for abandonment of political methods as exemplified in the election and seating of Senator Newberry and for the scrapping of political machines.

A naturalization court for final papers will be held at the courthouse in Gorham street on Thursday, June 29, and all residents of Lowell, who have taken out their second papers and are eligible to become full-fledged citizens of the United States are requested to be on hand early with their witnesses. The local post of the American Legion is issuing an appeal to its members who are eligible for final papers to be at the courthouse early. It is expected that the permanent naturalization committee of the French-speaking people of the city will have a large class of candidates present at the session.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Frederick W. Knox of Chelmsford and Miss May E. Bell of this city were married June 21 at the parsonage of the Lawrence Street P. M. church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. John Singleton. Miss Arvilla Knox was bridesmaid, while the best man was Mr. Robert M. Bell.

After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home in this city.

Early—Quinn

Mr. James L. Earley of Roxbury and Miss Esther Quinn, formerly of this city and now of Brookline, were married Wednesday at St. Lawrence's church, Brookline, by Rev. Fr. McManus, formerly of this city. The bridesmaid was Miss Frances M. Rourke, a cousin of the bride, while the best man was Mr. Daniel E. Cosgrove of Charlestown. At the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the new home of the couple in Fisher avenue, Roxbury, and in attendance were guests from Lowell, Providence, R. I., and New Jersey. The couple left later on an automobile honeymoon trip and they will be at home to their friends after July 6.

BOY BITTEN BY COLLIE DOG

The 48th dog bite of the year was reported to the board of health today. James Gaffney, 14-year-old son of Dr. J. P. Gaffney, of 104 D street, was bitten by a collie dog owned by Mr. Lawson of 67 D street. The owner of the dog was out of town for the day and could not be reached. The case was turned over to Dr. Sherman for investigation, who found the dog being detained at the house of a neighbor.

Dental Clinic Closed

on every school day during the 12 months.

The clinic was established in 1913 and Dr. Kent was elected by the health board as the dental surgeon in charge. At that time he had no attending nurse, but now he is assisted headly by Miss Eva Lantagne. A class room on the second floor of the Worthen Street school has been given over for the purposes of the clinic. A three-quarters partition, divides the work room from the office and waiting room. A splendid dental chair was bought for the clinic in 1915, with an especially constructed small chair for children's use. The equipment is particularly high grade and the doctor is able to do his work in adequate surroundings.

Nurses and physicians of the school department co-operate with Dr. Kent in the operation of the system of examinations and treatment of the teeth of any children in the elementary schools. The nurses particularly are in close touch with the clinic, for it is their duty to see to it that every child who needs dental attention is sent or taken to the clinic, bearing a card signed by either parent or guardian. This is absolutely necessary and no work is done unless the child has such a card, properly signed.

A most complete card index record is kept in the clinic office by Miss Lantagne and from time to time she gives the name of each child that has been treated at the clinic since its institution, as well as the school from which it came and the nature of the work done upon its teeth. The record of a child is kept from the time it first comes to the clinic until it leaves the elementary grades.

Monthly Dr. Kent sends a complete report of his work for that period to the division of hygiene, state department of health and a copy to Dr. Francis A. Finnegan, local supervisor of school hygiene.

The clinic is open every school day between the hours of 9 a. m. and noon, although many times Dr. Kent does not leave until long after that time. If the work demands his attention. As a rule, five or six children are treated daily, with eight or ten the maximum. The work fluctuates considerably and the mere fact that the number of pupils treated in any one month is less than in a preceding one, does not necessarily mean that less work is being done, for upon the nature of the work depends the number to be treated. Of course, the clinic might be housed in a more satisfactory building and its further development easily is possible if additional dental workers were secured. In particular, the work would be greatly developed if it were possible to make a complete and periodic examination of the teeth of all children in the grade schools. This would bring many more cases to light, and the clinic itself would have to be enlarged, but with the present personnel a most important phase of school hygiene is being adequately carried on. Dr. Kent, whenever possible, concentrates his efforts upon saving so-called six-year molar teeth, for upon their growth hinges the entire development of a child's jaw.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Newspaper Advertising to Further Spread the Gospel Advocated

NEW YORK, June 23.—Newspaper advertising to further the spread of the gospel is strongly advocated by the publicity department of the Episcopal church, which has brought out its recommendations, after a thorough study of the question of advertising, in a pamphlet entitled "A Handbook of Church Publicity," issued under the authorization of the national council of the church.

"No one can look at the newspapers and magazines and doubt that it pays to advertise," says the Rev. Robert F. Gibson, executive secretary of the publicity department and author of the text book. "Why should not this method of such proven efficiency be used for the propagation of the Gospel? Advertising is not, necessarily, sensational. It merely seems to be so because we are not accustomed to it for church purposes."

One of the striking features of the book is Mr. Gibson's strong advocacy of the fullest use by the churches of the advertising columns of the daily press not only for mere church notices but for spreading the Gospel among the masses.

"We have thought of publicity in the newspapers as merely a method of giving public notice of a service or a meeting, or of making public the account of something that has taken place," says Mr. Gibson. "We have thought too much of building up the attendance at a service or of exploiting persons or organizations. We are only beginning to think of church publicity in the public press as evangelistic in purpose. The newspapers themselves are really far ahead of the churches in their recognition of this evangelistic opportunity. Many editors are convinced that the problems of the world will never be solved rightly until Christian principles are applied and that therefore it is one of the functions of the public press to present and apply Christian principles."

"Advertising with an evangelistic purpose," says Mr. Gibson, "where the aim is to reach the unchurched, must be in the newspapers."

Mr. Gibson suggests a form of advertising to churches which will take the shape of a miniature sermon, "briefly interpreting some passage of scripture or briefly applying some of the hundred words in length, with the name of the preacher and his church annexed, are also recommended."

Mr. Gibson's conclusions and recommendations are the outcome of a resolution adopted by the national council at its Washington meeting last July. Church promotion by radio, moving pictures, posters, etc., is also considered in the handbook.

BIG CITIES HAVE 511 MILES OF BRIDLE PATHS

CHICAGO, Ill., June 23.—It what has been termed a horseless age more than 511 miles of bridle-paths are in use in 13 of the leading American cities and their vicinity, according to figures of the Horse Association of America. Chicago leads with approximately 200 miles; Boston has 100; Washington's trails are in the first rank in quality. Eight of the leading cities have forty riding schools. Horse shows are springing up in all parts of the country, especially in the neighborhood of summer resorts.

The Devon horse show held recently near Philadelphia had an attendance of 20,000 and the crowds even overran the polo fields.

The association says that bridle trails have been made through the Forest preserves near Chicago. These preserves cover more than 23,000 acres; Boston's trails lead through the country and the forest reservations. There are seven riding schools in the city and seven more in the suburbs.

Every Sunday afternoon from 300 to 500 riders use the trails which cover more than 75 miles in Rock Creek park, District of Columbia. Jumps in this park were laid out by President Roosevelt during his administration. Washington has eight miles of paths in Potomac park and around the speedway. Efforts are now being made to link Rock Creek park to Potomac park by a bridle trail along the Potomac river.

Six miles of bridle path in Central park, New York, are heavily crowded on Saturday afternoon and Sunday, and it is said that riders using the two miles of paths in Riverside drive are occasionally forced out on the asphalt with the motorists. Van Cortlandt park has six miles which lead out of New York into many miles of country roads suitable for horseback riding.

Brooklyn's bridle trails total thirty miles. Prospect park is used by an average of 400 riders.

Motorists are excluded from Wissahickon park at Philadelphia, where there are 12 miles of bridle trails. There are 13 miles of good riding in Fairmount park at the same city, and numerous clubs near by maintain polo fields and steeple chase courses, the statement notes.

The riding census on San Francisco is reported as exceptionally large. There are four riding schools there and six miles of paths in Golden Gate park besides facilities in the way of mountain trails and beach riding. There are many routes suitable for no, definite bridle paths, and gravel horseback riding near Los Angeles.

Minneapolis, Minn., has fourteen miles of bridle paths; Baltimore, Md., seven; Buffalo, N. Y., three or four; St. Paul, Minn., four, and St. Louis, Mo., 15 or 16. Interest is developing in Detroit, Mich., where, although there are roads, somewhat avoided by motorists are available.

Plans are underway to develop a large riding club at Cleveland, O. A Buffalo riding club is building a clubhouse and a show ground, with stables for 100 horses; another Buffalo club already accommodates approximately 100 horses.

MEN BLIND TO WOMAN'S SUFFERING

How many men, think you, have any idea of the pain endured by women in their own household, and often without murmur? They have no patience when the overworked wife and mother begins to get pale, have headaches, backaches, faint spells, or is melancholy and cannot sleep. There is help for every woman in this condition, as evidenced by the many voluntary letters of recommendation which we are continually publishing in this paper for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to give it a trial.—Adv.

MRS. WILLIAMS
SAYS LIFE WAS BURDEN TO HER

Nervous Indigestion Now Entirely
Overcome and She Has Gained
Eleven Pounds Taking Tanlac

"My health was so run down on account of stomach trouble that life was a burden," said Mrs. Emily Williams, 118 Lenox street, Boston, Mass., a popular dress-maker and ladies' tailoress, in a recent statement regarding Tanlac.

"For two years past I have had indigestion so bad I was almost afraid to eat anything. No matter how simple my diet or how little I ate I suffered from sour stomach, and nausea and would bloat up with gas until I simply had to gasp for breath. My nerves were completely shattered and many a night I was so restless I had to get up and walk the floor.

"Tanlac helped me from the very day I started taking it and four bottles have built me up to the best of health. My stomach is in fine condition and my appetite so ravenous that I am eating more than I ever did before. My nerves are perfectly calm and I have not slept so well since I was a school girl. I have gained 11 pounds in weight and couldn't ask to feel better. I now know how to appreciate good health as I never did before. Tanlac has won my everlasting gratitude."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Adv.

PARTY LINES BROKEN

Great Interest in Statewide
Primaries in North Dakota

June 28

BISMARCK, N. D., June 23.—With party lines broken and disregarded, North Dakota is approaching its statewide primary June 28th with the interest centered in the struggle between the present administration and the Non-Partisan league for the control of the state government. Gov. R. A. Nestos, the first governor in the history of the United States to be elected in a recall campaign, is heading the combination of republicans and democrats aligned against the league. The latter is marshalling its forces under the name of republican, the democratic members of the league signing up as republicans for the purpose of the primary.

The primary is strictly a North Dakota affair. While a candidate for United States senator is to be elected, the league and anti-league battle centers into this and the selection of the senator is one of the queerest angles ever presented to the people of a state.

Lynn J. Frasier, recalled governor, is the candidate for the Non-Partisan league. Porter J. McCumber is a candidate to succeed himself, and Ormsby McFarlane of Jamestown, a former private secretary of Senator McCumber, is also a candidate.

According to political observers, the primary will not give a line upon the trend of national feeling. Conditions politically, they contend, are too chaotic, the party label too easily changed, for any stamp of pro or anti to be declared from the result. Something of the tangled conditions can be guessed from the fact that the names of the same men appear on petitions of candidates named for democratic and republican office. No alignment has yet been made in this potpourri of politics stamping one side or the other as carrying the banner of progress, immobility or reaction.

Back of all these conditions trail the years in which North Dakota has been the experimental ground for economic theories, theories which needed a political party label for functioning, and still further back, are the years in which North Dakota was attempting to align itself under the progressive banner, upheld at that time by its near native son, Theodore Roosevelt.

Under these conditions six different elements entered into the campaign. The elements, each one paramount to some certain group or alignment or section, follow:

- 1.—Interested in the state ticket and the return of Gov. R. A. Nestos to the position he has filled since Nov. 23 last. This element has no candidate for the senatorship.
- 2.—The Non-Partisan league, with its members signing up as republicans; its ticket headed by former Governor Frasier as candidate for United States senator, and with a complete state ticket, headed by D. F. Baker of Glenburn, a farmer, for governor.
- 3.—Democrats, supporting J. P. T. O'Connor for United States senator, and a complete state ticket.
- 4.—Porter J. McCumber, senator, ardently supported by former stalwarts with followers in both the republican and non-partisan camps.
- 5.—Protest against the purpose of

6.—Protest in republican ranks against the industrial experiments the state has been trying.

The preliminary campaign, up to the time of final filing for office, was a contest between the independent republican and the McCumber forces. The independents attempted to force the senator and his immediate followers to ally themselves with the independents against the Non-Partisan league. This was met by the equally insistent demand of the supporters of McCumber that the independents ally themselves with the senator, regardless of the league question. Both sides failed in this effort, although some independent candidates have announced that they personally will vote for McCumber.

The third man in the race for senator, Ormsby McFarlane of Jamestown, is regarded as an unknown quantity.

Since his return to the state, less than a year ago, which accounts for his inability to vote in the primary, he has aligned himself with the independents. He is a former private secretary to Senator McCumber and has been absent from North Dakota for some years.

Governor Nestos is leading a state ticket on which George Shafer of Watford City is the candidate for attorney general, and Joseph A. Kitchen is asking renomination as commissioner of agriculture and labor. These three positions form the industrial commission which has control of the large business interests of the state.

The league candidates are B. V. Baker of Glenburn for governor, Peter Garberg of Hettinger for attorney general, and W. J. Church of York for commissioner of agriculture and labor. Baker and Church are farmers, former members of the North Dakota senate, and familiar with the work of the state.

Several independent candidates are in the field, but the only one who is considered by politicians to have much of a chance is Silver Secumgard of Devils Lake, candidate for commissioner of agriculture and labor. It is contended that he is taking votes from both sides.

AN OLD RECIPE
TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray,
Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS

Let Every Club Woman Confer on Herself Degree of "Doctor of Safety"

CHAUTAQUA, N. Y., June 23.—"If every club woman in the United States would confer on herself the degree of 'Doctor of Safety,' traffic accidents would soon be done away with," said John C. Long, of the national automobile chamber of commerce, speaking before the General Federation of Women's clubs here today.

"Most accidents on our highways are needless," said the speaker. "The conditions which cause them are preventable. Twenty-eight cities lowered their traffic fatality records in 1921. Detroit and St. Louis nearly halved their previous highway mortality figures. Credit for this decrease belongs to local 'Doctors of Safety,' who diagnosed the trouble and then applied strong remedies to bring about convalescence."

"The increase of motor vehicles to the number of 10,000,000 in use today has come about so rapidly that we have been staggered by the traffic problem, and have often been led to handle in a panicky manner a condition which will yield to normal treatment."

"We have passed stringent laws, cried for punishment of the speeder, and demanded that traffic rule violators be put in jail. This is all well enough, but it is not fundamental. Persons who spread disease should be quarantined, but that does not necessarily stamp out the source of the malady."

"Among the causes of traffic accidents are careless driving, children playing in the streets, poor parking accommodations, insufficient playgrounds, bad street lighting, lack of signs, narrow street limits, inadequate police force, unintelligent traffic regulations."

"If a boy or girl in your community is taken ill, the doctor is called in and makes his diagnosis. He decides whether the trouble is croup or scarlet fever, or what, before attempting to prescribe a remedy. If a child has typhoid fever the whole water supply system of the town may need investigation."

"If a child is injured in an automobile accident, however, someone may be arrested, the police may insist on all motorists carrying special cards, a few ordinances may be passed, but in most communities there will be no exhaustive examination of why that accident occurred."

"If the club women of the United States would confer on themselves the degree of 'Doctor of Safety,' accidents would soon be virtually done away with."

"Any woman's club can make a ready diagnosis of its own town, and cure the accident evil. Make a map of the city. Place a white pin at every point where a child accident occurred during the past year, and a blue pin for every adult accident on the highways. There you have a basis for determining accident causes."

"Are there many pins concentrated at certain points? Perhaps better lighting, more signs and more police are needed there. Are most of the pins in the middle of blocks rather than at intersections? Then a campaign to urge crossing at the crosswalks is needed. Are the child pins prevalent? Then more attention is needed in school instruction, in home training, in local playgrounds."

"Following this anatomy study, which should reveal the worst of the sore spots, should come a study of the police records on accident cases. At what time of day and year did these occur? Special traffic police relief at peak periods might help. What was the apparent cause of the accident? If speeding and carelessness are common, more in evidence, a campaign on public opinion on the part of the mother would be of great assistance in law enforcement."

"For the remedies one may turn to Detroit which has large playgrounds, and elaborate safety instruction in the schools; to Cleveland which has junior patrols to aid the young and the helpless in crossing the street; to Buffalo, to Indianapolis, and to other cities on the Safety Honor Roll of 1921, where the local schools and associations will be able to tell what methods are being used to make their highways more safe."

"Among the other leading cities which recorded fewer traffic fatalities in 1921 than in 1920 are: Akron, O.; Atlanta, Ga.; Bayonne, N. J.; Berkeley, Calif.; Bridgeport, Conn.; Cincinnati, O.; Dayton, O.; Grand Rapids, Mich.; Lansing, Mich.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Newark, N. J.; New Rochelle, N. Y.; Norfolk, Va.; Ogden, Utah; Paterson, N. J.; Peoria, Ill.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Pittsfield, Mass.; Providence, R. I.; Richmond, Calif.; Trenton, N. J.; and Youngstown, O."

SCHOOL PLAY TURNED INTO GRIM TRAGEDY

MARLBORO, June 23.—A school play was turned into a grim tragedy yesterday afternoon, when 16-year-old Mildred Deming, a toe-dancer in "Astra, the Health Fairy," was probably fatally burned by her flimsy gown catching fire from a star of sparklers that she was carrying.

At the sight of their schoolmate running screaming from the darkened stage and out into the crowded high school assembly hall, several hundred pupils became panic stricken and were quieted with difficulty by the teachers.

Michael Flannery, janitor of the school, was the first to realize the girl's peril. He grabbed her as she started to dart off the stage and with his bare hands tried to extinguish the flames that were curling about the little dancer's body. She managed to break away and creased with fright ran out into the crowded auditorium. In a second Miss Mary E. Hines, the school nurse, who had just entered the hall, whipped off a linen duster she was wearing, and after dousing it about the burning girl, succeeded in smothering the flames.

In the meantime some of the pupils in the rear of the room had recovered from the first stages of their fright and were making their way into the open. Someone pulled in the school fire alarm and added to the excitement.

Superintendent of Schools P. P. Carr, who was in his office, heard the commotion, and after being told of the accident, sent an emergency call for Dr. J. J. Kelly. He gave first aid treatment to the girl and ordered her removal to Marlboro hospital, where she was found to be burned about the arms and body. Her name was placed on the danger list.

Janitor Flannery was also burned about the hands and face. He too was taken to the hospital, and after receiving treatment, was taken to his home. The burning occurred in the last act of the play and immediately afterward the audience was dismissed. How the girl's gown caught fire has not yet been explained, although it is believed that one of the sparks from the blazing star she carried ignited the flimsy material, and before the fire was discovered, the girl was enveloped in flames.

CRAMPS, PAINS AND BACKACHE

St. Louis Woman Relieved by
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered with cramps and pains every month and had backache and had to go to bed as I could not work. My mother and my whole family always took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for such troubles and they induced me to try it and it has helped me very much. I don't have cramps any more, and I can do my housework all through the month. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends for female troubles."

Mrs. DELLA SCHOLZ, 1412 Salisbury Street, St. Louis, Mo.
Just think for a moment. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been in use for nearly fifty years. It is prepared from medicinal plants, by the utmost pharmaceutical skill, and superior methods. The ingredients thus combined in the Compound correct the conditions which cause such annoying symptoms as had been troubling Mrs. Scholz. The Vegetable Compound exercises a restorative influence of the most desirable character, correcting the trouble in a gentle but efficient manner. This is noted, by the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms.

GRADUATION EXERCISES AT ST. LOUIS' SCHOOL

The commencement exercises for the graduates of the academic and grammar courses of St. Louis' parochial school, which is under the direction of the Sisters of the Assumption, were held last evening in the parish hall in Beaulieu street. The attendance was large and all present highly appreciated the elaborate program which was presented by the pupils of the school. In attendance at the exercises were Rev. J. E. Labrosse, pastor; Rev. F. X. Gauthier, Rev. B. J. Vincent and Rev. D. Bolyard, as well as all the members of the teaching staff of the school.
The diplomas and other awards were presented by the pastor, who delivered a brief address, commending the pupils and teachers for the excellent results obtained during the year, and he closed by giving advice to the graduates. ## FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS there was nothing to report officially. Official statements were scarce. Everyone talked of the fight and many freely related their own experiences. The killed simply "dropped dead." It was explained when official statements were asked. No one was murdered. It was said—officially. It was remarked that there had been 27 other killings here since Jan. 1.

Plans to Burn Mines

Early today several newspapermen were privately informed that plans were afoot to burn a number of mines which in previous years had labor troubles. The correspondents were told to go to a certain mine at 5 o'clock this morning and they would see what was termed "a party." Many automobiles carrying men passed in the direction of the mine named, but there was no fire and no trouble.

Lester Mine a Heap of Ashes

All that remains of the Lester mine is a heap of ashes for it was set on fire shortly after the attackers captured it. Mr. Lester, the owner, was reported to have come here from Chicago, but no one had been able to find him early today.

Early today Sheriff Thaxton told newspapermen that the situation was all in hand and there was no danger. That was the only official statement in the early hours of the day.

Union Officials Accused

MUSKOGEE, Okla., June 23.—Blame for the Illinois coal field killings rests largely upon miners' union officials of Illinois, John Wilkinson, president of District No. 21, United Mine Workers of America, declared here today.

Deploping the lawlessness and slaying Mr. Wilkinson said: "Things like this do not happen overnight. They are the result of days and weeks of fermentation."

"Had the officers and board members of the Illinois district been in proper touch with their men throughout the district they could have prevented this. The blame will rest largely upon the officials and board members of the Illinois miners."

"In our district even though scattered over three states, we manage to keep in constant touch with every field and riots of this kind will never be reported to have come here from Chicago."

Merrimack Still Rising in Lawrence

LAWRENCE, June 23.—The Merrimack river at the dam rose from 41.18 feet to 41.89 feet between 8 o'clock yesterday morning and the same time this morning and is still rising, according to officials of the Essex Co. During the same period the water at the lower locks rose from 15.08 feet to 17.28 feet. There are still many feet leeway before there is danger of any damage. The Spicket river which flows from Island Pond, N. H., empties into the Merrimack river in this city, is also very high.

Official Probe Ordered

since no one remained to work in the strip and that of itself was a guarantee against further outbreaks and asserted the 1000 members of the Illinois National Guard ordered to mobilize in Chicago for possible duty here, were unnecessary.

An inquest into the carnage was set for today. The slaughter was wrought by miners and supporters, when drunk with moonshine whiskey and angered at the efforts of the strip pit workers who had been termed in a telegram from the mine workers' international chief "common strike breakers" they bore down at dawn on the huddled group. Until late last night, no official step to investigate the affair had been taken, no grand jury had been summoned and no arrest had been made.

Veritable Roman Holiday

Miners in Horton streets openly boasted that they participated in the infliction of death by gunfire, hanging and dragging through the streets in a veritable Roman holiday, but there was no action against them.

That the death list would be increased today, seemed to be agreed. Fifteen bodies were weighed about the necks and cast into a pond, a miner told a correspondent for The Associated Press, and the area over which killings occurred was estimated at 16 square miles of hilly, timbered land.

The dead at first were reported accounted for in a pitched battle between the strikers and sympathizers and the imported pit strippers when the local men attacked the barricaded workers at dawn.

Gravely Massacred

Later, however, open statements from scores of persons on the streets here were that the workmen surrendered at the first onslaught and, after having been tied in groups of three and six, were cruelly massacred. They were ordered to run a gauntlet of rifle fire, only to be shot to death at instances of a few feet when, wounded, one or two of a group fell and dragged others to the ground. They were stabbed and hacked to death with knives, beaten with clubs and at least three of them hanged, while six men were said to have been dragged over a rough rock road behind an automobile.

Women Used Men On

The women, some carrying infants, urged the men on, and in at least one instance, the Associated Press correspondent observed almost unbelievable cruelty from a woman. He came across a group lying in the road, one of the men badly mangled and his shoulder shot away. Begging for water, and evidently near death, the worker was only jerked at by the men and women about. The correspondent dashed into a house and obtained water, but was restrained by men who pointed pistols. A moment later, a woman carrying a baby appeared in the dying man with her foot and told him she would "see him in hell" before he could drink.

Death Toll May Never Be Known

In the wounded list there were 16 in the Horton hospital, three reported in the Carbondale hospital and a number of other—union striking miners—believed to be lying in their homes. There was little question that the exact number of dead never will be known. No one seemed inclined to drag the pond where bodies were reported thrown and no searching party tion have been organized to seek bodies in the woods.

Shot Down in Cold Blood

All reports, whether from miners or from strike breakers, or mine operators agree that the killings really were a massacre—that the victims were shot down in cold blood after they had put up the white flag and surrendered themselves and their arms to the attacking forces. Many persons in the county uphold the slaughter as a rightful act of judgment. Citizens gathering on street corners last night and today laughed and joked over the affair and proudly boasted that "some of these days people will realize that it doesn't pay to try to break a strike in Williamson county."

In the morgue, women and children, as they passed through, commented on the accuracy of the shooters who brought them down these victims.

Openly Boast of Murders

Men who openly boast that they were in the attacking forces related with apparent pride the stories of what in war times would be called brutality. The story of the attack on C. K. McDowell strike breakers superintendent was related by many. McDowell, with only one leg, was beaten to death with stones before being riddled with bullets, according to persons who say they were eye-witnesses.

He refused to march with the other prisoners who were tied together and told to run down the road between lines of attackers who poured buckshot, rifle and pistol bullets into them as they fled, saying that he'd just as soon die where he was. He died where he was.

The mine safe was looted and one man, with some $1500 in bills, stood with a semi-circle of men around him and dealt out the bills like cards, according to wounded men who were there.

Dying Men Kicked Around

The correspondent saw men wounded almost to death, kicked around in the scorching sun in dusty roads. He saw men chased through fields like rabbits. Surrounded by armed men, he saw a knife plunged into the throat of a wounded man who in his dying breath gasped a plea: "In the name of my mother, in the name of your mother, in the name of our God, give me water," only to receive laughs and jibes such as:

"Where you're going you won't see water," as a reply.

Mothers carried babes into the morgues and up to piles of bodies in the roads with such remarks as: "Take a look at what your papa did, kid." He watched a man walk to the bedside of a dying man and curse him and jeer at him as he breathed his last.

Not a Word of Sympathy

Through it all, although the fight area was traversed a dozen times, there was not a word heard of sympathy for a victim. The sentiment seemed to be that strike breakers deserved slaughter and that these had received it.

Few of the dead could be positively identified. Most of them had been rifled of all effects. After lying piled in the morgues yesterday, they were embalmed last night. Scores watched the processes all through the night making unprintable remarks about the bodies.

That today would bring official action of some kind was undoubted. That this action would bring little in the way of results was the prediction of most everyone in touch with the situation.

Says Police Would Rout Soldiers

The order of Governor Small last night to hold 1000 men of the militia in readiness in Chicago was greeted on the streets here with sarcastic comment. A member of the police force told the correspondent that the police force would be the prediction of most everyone in touch with the situation. If troops were sent here he'd "take them out." Inquiry developed that he himself was the night police force. The request of the governor for an official report brought more sarcasm, the gist of which seemed to be that

Griffith Prepares To Hang New Stars in Cinema Heaven

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, June 22.—D. W. Griffith is preparing to hang more stars in the cinema heavens.
He has just completed the cast and is shooting opening scenes of his next picture, a comedy drama by Irene Sinclair, with the working title of "At the Grange." It will be in seven reels.
D. W. will introduce a number of new faces to the silver screen. And Griffith has a way, like Cecil DeMille, of fashioning celebrities from nonentities. Richard Barthelmess, for instance, the cast of the new picture includes Carol Dempster, Porter Strong, Henry

Lake, Marie Prevost, Mary Thurman, Bebe Daniels, Vera Steadman and Louise Fazenda.
One of the most refreshing comedies in many a moon is "Supply and Demand," first of a new series featuring Johnny Jones. This is one of those little whimsical affairs of the adolescent age.

A group of children band together to sell rat traps for which there is no demand. The devious ways in which they create a demand furnish a comedy that crowds all the youthful pranks of "Penrod" into two reels.
European Notes: "The Diva's Ruby" will be filmed in Italy. "The King of the Beggars," a serial that has proved a sensation in Paris, will be sent to the United States. "The Valley of Ngumba" and "The White Desert" are being filmed in Germany, using wild animals of the Hagenbeck collection. Constance Binney will make a personal appearance with "Orphans of the Storm" in England. "The Tragedy of Russia" is a six-reel film showing the fall of the czar and the rise of the Bolshevik government. Among the new German films are "The Round of Death," "The Princess of Tuscany," "The Empress Elizabeth," "The Murderous Governor" and "The Ascension of Henricke."

The Movie Chatterbox

Edward Burns will be Constance Talmadge's leading man in "East is West."
Ramsey Wallace will play the lead in "The Gamin Girl," starring Alice Calhoun.

Alan Forrest plays opposite Shirley Mason in "The Little Teacher."
What next? Katherine MacDonald shows us first "The Woman's Side" and then "White Shoulders."

Colleen Moore's hint to vacationists: Don't leave all your best clothes behind—you may meet someone you'd like to dress up for.
Maxime Tourneur has completed the exterior for "The Christian" at Epson Downs and the Isle of Man and is on his way to America to take the interiors.

TO HEAR PROTEST FROM POST OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The recent action of the North Atlantic intercoastal freight rate conference in ordering the Atlantic, Gulf & Pacific Steamship company, to eliminate as ports of call, Providence, R. I., and New London, Conn., will be discussed at a meeting of the conference next Tuesday. The meeting has been called through the efforts of the Shipping board in response to complaints from the affected ports.

The conference action, it was explained by Shipping board officials, was taken on the ground that Providence and New London were not terminal ports, but had been granted terminal port rates instead of conference rates.

Each councillor on the committee last night received from City Auditor Daniel E. Martin a copy of a letter addressed to Mayor George H. Brown relative to several city accounts under discussion at the present time.

The letter brought out the fact that while the prior revenue balance as of June 20 was $172,556.95, departmental accounts receivable account for $118,154.49 of the total, leaving $54,402.46 in cash, as above stated.

Other information contained in the letter was relative to estimated revenue for 1922 as compared with the collections of estimated revenue up to June 20 in 1921. Last year during January, February, March, April, May and up to June 20, revenue was received amounting to $282,572.91, against receipts this year covering the same period of $222,345.03. From these figures it would appear that the estimated revenue receipts for this year already have fallen short $60,227.88.

Included in the departmental accounts receivable that go to make up the prior revenue balance of June 20, are taxes of 1915, 1919 and 1920, amounting to $91,054.03. Offsetting these outstanding taxes and held in reserve for abatements there are the following overlay accounts as of the same date: 1919, $15,900.96; 1920, $91,526.04; overlay surplus, $57,454.90.

The 1921 overlay account has been reduced to $5934.47 and there is still uncollected in the 1921 tax account, $64,061.70 and inasmuch as heavy abatements during 1921 greatly reduced the overlay account of that year, it is possible that the city will be called upon to replenish the 1921 overlay account before all the outstanding taxes are collected.

It is believed that last night's order marks the beginning and the end of additional appropriations for the year, although a number of departmental requests that had made urgent requests for assistance have not been cared for. Only the most pressing cases were considered in view of the fact that the fountain of supply was running low.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., June 23.—Two men were killed, a deputy sheriff suffered a broken arm and a dozen other persons received minor injuries when a mob attacked an interurban traction car carrying non-union miners and officers of the Hudson Coal Co., guarded by deputy sheriffs, from this city to the Lewis mine near Reynoldsville, today. The mob stopped the car, pulled off the trolley and swarmed aboard. Two of the attacking party were shot as they crawled through windows. The mine was opened on an open shop basis Monday.

LABRADOR FISHING FLEET DWINDLING

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., June 23.—The Labrador fishing fleet, operating from this port is rapidly dwindling away, according to a summary prepared by Newfoundland trade interests. There has been a falling off of 421 vessels in 10 years, according to this report. "Last year the total number of schooners surveyed and given clearances for Labrador was 529," the report says. "The present season there will be a further falling off, which is estimated to bring the total down to about 500—just about half what it was in 1910. This is a serious state of affairs and bodes ill for the Labrador fishery of the future, seeing that there are so few new schooners built each winter in recent years to replace the 30 to 50 that are lost every year, while more become so old and unseaworthy that they must be condemned. Were it not for the shore crews or stationers that go down in the summers and freighters the Labrador fishery would be today a small fraction of what it was a quarter of a century ago."

FREDERICTON, N. B., June 23.—The St. John river rose 16 feet over night, carrying away ten million feet of lumber owned by the Fraser Lumber Co., destroying many buildings, and making railroad communication between Woodstock and Edmundston impossible because of washouts. The floods gave no promise of abating today. The big steel and concrete bridge across the Teagouche river at Hartland was swept from its moorings and against the Canadian Pacific railroad bridge, throwing the railroad structure four feet out of alignment. This was the third time in three years that this bridge was moved by high water.

STATLER COMPANY WINS HOTEL SITE

BOSTON, June 23.—The Statler Hotel company wins the controversy with the Preferred Underwriters over the Park square site for the new hotel. Judge Carroll of the supreme judicial court yesterday dismissed the bill brought by the Preferred Underwriters, Inc., to enjoin the New Haven railroad from selling the land to the Statler people. The Preferred Underwriters, Inc., had an option on the land in Park square and paid a considerable sum of money under it, but failed to exercise its rights within a reasonable time. The hotel to be erected by these interests was to have been under the management of Hiram Ricker, of Poland, Maine.

PAUL KITTREDGE COUNCIL. There will be a meeting of the Paul Kittredge council at Y.M.C.A. hall this evening at 8 o'clock, when the council will probably discuss whether it will hold any more meetings. The books of the hand drive will be given out to the members.

ST. PETER'S ORPHANAGE TO HAVE OUTINGS

St. Peter's Orphan association, an organization of men interested in St. Peter's orphanage, met last evening at St. Margaret's rectory and elected officers for the ensuing year. John Dwyer of Waverly avenue, was chosen president; Charles W. Holmes, secretary, and Rev. Charles J. Galligan, treasurer. The association has planned to give the children an outing at Canobie lake on August 10. Those who are interested in the orphanage usually contribute a sufficient number of automobiles to convey all the children to the picnic grounds. It is also planned to give the ten sisters, who are in charge of the orphanage, a day's outing at Pemberton in Boston harbor on July 20.

appointed by the chair for the purpose of conducting a drive for $40,000. This committee will be made public by Chairman Harris within a few days. In order to claim title to the Spaulding park property, a resolution was adopted that the sum of $500 be raised immediately. This allotment was subsequently raised by the members present at the meeting.

The set of recommendations, compiled by the members of the committee on a permanent athletic field, and which led to the proposed acquisition of the Cawley property, were read by the chairman as follows:

- 1.—That the Lowell High School Alumni association acquire a permanent athletic field for a stadium for the Lowell high school.
- 2.—That the land known as Spaulding park, located on Rogers street, be purchased by the alumni for a stadium for the Lowell high school.
- 3.—That the Lowell High School Alumni association also acquire the land owned by the Cawley heirs on the northerly side of said Spaulding park containing 2237 acres, and a strip of land on the westerly side of Spaulding park.
- 4.—That the management of said stadium be in charge of a committee of five consisting of the principal of the Lowell high school, one of the teachers of the Lowell high school to be elected by the members of the Lowell High School Alumni association, and three of the alumni to be elected by the members of the Lowell High School Alumni association.
- 5.—That a committee of five be appointed from each of the classes, to prepare a card index of the members of the various classes and to solicit funds for the purchase and maintenance of the stadium for the Lowell high school.
- 6.—That the sum of $25,000 be raised for the purpose of purchase and maintenance of said stadium.

Call For Suggestions. Before accepting the recommendations, a discussion was called for, in order that the sentiments of the members might be voiced on the matter and possible suggestions offered. Chairman Silverblatt outlined at length the features to be connected with the proposed stadium in the form of modern dressing rooms, showers, lockers and other conveniences. In answer to a question concerning a first street stadium, the chairman explained that such a stadium would not meet the requirements of the high school because that site could not be

WHAT TO WEAR IN HOT WEATHER

In those not distant days when the mercury is going to slide suavely up over 90 degrees, leaving you gasping for breath and wondering why you ever thought you liked summer—the problem of what to wear will confront you.

Calico is one of the old-fashioned materials recently come back to favor, which you may choose for hot weather dresses.

Quiet patterns in colors or black on black grounds of gray or black or blue remind one of grandmother's frocks of 50 years ago.

Figured batiste—white sprinkled with rosebuds of pale pink or blue—is also shown.

Organdie is worn, but it is not so popular as figured stuffs. Checks and stripes are especially featured; dots come next.

Following several incidental remarks by other members present, it was unanimously voted, on a motion by William Cantor that $40,000 be named as the quota for the drive.

The alumni association, an incorporated body, was authorized, on a motion by General Pearson, to claim title to the proposed site by raising the sum of $500. The contributions were opened by a donation of $100 from Gen. Pearson, followed by Bennett Silverblatt with $200; Edward W. Trull $100; Henry H. Harris, $50; Mrs. James H. Conway, $25; James P. Roane, $25; William Cantor, $25; William W. Dennett, $15; Miss Helen Lambert, $10; a friend, $50.

Memorial Committee

The Cyrus W. Irish memorial committee reported that the cataloging of the different classes was progressing satisfactorily, and Mr. Harris stated that 1000 envelopes will be addressed by the high school girls to the members of the various classes, in an effort to secure subscriptions to a fund, which will be used for the purchase of a portrait painting of Cyrus W. Irish. The amount requested is $1000. The committee is as follows: Frederick W. Coburn, Arthur L. Eno, Belle Dodge Horner, Miss Josephine M. Ockington and Lewis E. MacBryne.

Mr. Harris explained to the members that he had sent a request to the school board asking that the auditorium in the new high school be dedicated to Cyrus W. Irish, as a testimonial to his love for the school. As yet the committee has not been recognized.

TAKES OVER PAVILION AT SALISBURY BEACH

The Sea View dancing pavilion at Salisbury beach has been acquired by Charles E. Bunker of this city, proprietor of the Casino, and made over to a roller skating rink. The new rink will be the very best in New England, according to Mr. Bunker. It is much larger than the Casino, and its location on the ocean front will allow its patrons to enjoy the cool sea breeze while enjoying one of the most pleasurable of pastimes. The new enterprise will be under the supervision of John Stanton, the well known dancing teacher, who will be assisted by a competent corps of skating instructors. About 500 pairs of skates are now available for the grand opening tomorrow.

STRIKERS HOLD MASS MEETING

Over 200 strikers of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. and Bay State Cotton Corp. attended a mass meeting in Trades & Labor hall yesterday afternoon. The gathering was addressed by Chairman John Hanley of the strike committee, who said that as far as he has been able to find out, very few of the strikers have deserted the ranks. He urged those who are fighting against the radical reduction of 20 per cent. to continue their battle, saying if they stick together they are bound to win out. At the close of Mr. Hanley's address a social hour was enjoyed during which entertainment numbers were given by some of the talent in the organization. Particularly pleasing were the numbers given by a quartet composed of young women. It was announced at strike headquarters today that a committee of this city has been formed for the purpose of raising funds for the needy strikers. This committee is now making arrangements for a dance which will be held in I.O.O.F. hall, Bridge street next Friday evening.

GAVE RECEPTION TO FORMER PRINCIPAL

An informal reception was given on Tuesday by the teachers of the Wood street school to the first principal of that school, Mary McGovern, now Mrs. Charles Hart of Santa Monica, Calif. Mrs. Hart, who is here on a visit after an absence of 17 years, was the recipient of many hearty greetings from former co-workers and pupils. It was a delightful "listening in" party to the call of the Pacific, with the pleasing finale that nature's grandest beauty may be seen here in Lowell, in the first snowfall.

LIGHTNING STRIKES ENGINE HOUSE

The telephone and fire alarm systems at the quarters of Engine 6 in Fletcher street were put out of order early last evening when a lightning bolt struck the wires and entered the tower of the brick building. The glass in the two windows of the tower was shattered, but no other damage was caused, and although the men in the station were shaken up some by the crash, no one was injured. Repair gangs from the fire department and telephone company were soon on the scene and a half-hour later after the crash both systems had been restored.

LAYING OUT THIRD BASEBALL DIAMOND

The park department is laying out a third baseball diamond at Shedd park to accommodate the many boys who are anxious to play in that section of the city. A backstop is being erected and the diamond will be ready for use within a week.

The tennis courts are in constant demand and today all were in use during the forenoon, with about 40 boys and girls waiting for a chance to play.

15 Arrested in London Raids

assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, constituted one of the most damaging demonstrations against the government that it has experienced, according to opinion in the lobby. The view was expressed that had it been possible to debate the subject, the existence of the government would have been seriously in question.

Debate has been postponed until Monday, and government supporters expect the opposition will be less inflamed by that time. "Austen Chamberlain, the government leader, is said by those who were near him as he was questioned, to have grown pale under the fire of interrogation. A bad impression was caused by his statement that police protection had been withdrawn from the cabinet ministers and other prominent men."

LONDON, June 23.—(By the Associated Press) Fifteen men and one woman were arrested in the raids throughout London last night in connection with the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson. It was announced in the house of commons today by Austen Chamberlain, the government leader.

He stated that every step possible was being taken for the protection of life in Ireland and England and intimated that a discussion of Irish affairs would be held on Monday. Prime Minister Lloyd George, he stated was now holding a conference on all the matters connected with the assassination of Marshal Wilson.

James O'Brien and James Connolly, who were arrested directly after the shooting, were arraigned in the Westminster police court and charged with murder. They were remanded for one week by Magistrate Cecil Chapman.

The accused men were taken to the court room under strong guard from the Gerald road police station. In the courtroom, there were a number of plain clothes officers who have been engaged in the last year in dealing with the Sinn Féin outrages in London.

The prisoners were charged with the murder of Field Marshal Wilson and the attempted murder of Constables Marsh and Sayer, and Alexander Clark, a chauffeur.

Lloyd George Absent

There was an unusually large attendance in the house of commons today in expectation of further developments in connection with the Wilson assassination. The absence of Premier Lloyd George caused some complaint, but Austen Chamberlain, the government leader, explained that the premier was conferring with police authorities.

Startling Suggestions

The Conservative "Die Hards" harbored Mr. Chamberlain with questions, the cross-examination lasting half an hour. Some startling suggestions were contained in the queries.

Mr. Chamberlain said it was inadvisable to make any public statement at the present time, but he gave the information that there had been 16 arrests in connection with the crime, and the arrested persons being a woman. The constable and the civilian who were wounded during the chase of the assassins were progressing satisfactorily, he said.

Mr. Chamberlain denied that instructions had been given Scotland Yard, in view of the improved relations of England and Ireland, to discontinue the yard's activities with regard to Ireland.

It was owing to what he believed to be the improved position that police protection was withdrawn from the ministers and others who had been under special protection.

It was Secretary Short explained that police protection had been removed from everyone except Sir Hamar Greenwood, the chief secretary for Ireland about a month ago on the advice of Scotland Yard.

Secretary Short said no information had been received that Field Marshal Wilson's life was in danger. Upon this Col. Martin Archer-Shee declared he had seen a letter sent to Scotland Yard, regarding the field marshal. He instantaneously called on Mr. Short to resign.

Mr. Short reiterated that Scotland Yard had no knowledge that the field marshal's life was endangered.

MANY SEEK GLAND TRANSPLANTATION

CHICAGO, June 23.—One immediate result of the successful gland transplantation to which Harold F. McCormick submitted, and the wide publicity given his case, has been numerous applications from wealthy men whose vitality is waning, and who desire rejuvenation, and from obese women, wealthy dowagers, who fear the loss of social position, because of their increasing adiposity.

Inquiries from women passed middle age, has been as eager and as numerous as those from men. Surgeons say it is possible to rejuvenate these women, but the operation is far more complicated than for men, and was not attended with the same success.

It was said yesterday that since operating on Mr. McCormick, Dr. Victor Leshnise has performed similar operations on at least six other men, all of them wealthy and prominent, but in these, he and his patients have been able to keep the operations secret.

RECITAL OF YOUNGER PUPILS OF MISS GALE

The annual recital of the younger "TIZ" GLADDENS SORE, TIRED FEET

"TIZ" makes sore, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callosities, blisters and bunions.

"TIZ" draws out the acids and poisons that puff up your feet. No matter how hard you work, how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "TIZ" brings a restful foot comfort. "TIZ" is wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Your feet just tingle for joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight.

Get a box of "TIZ" now from any druggist or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy.—Adv.

pupils of Miss Ella Leona Gale was held in Kilton hall Wednesday evening, the young musicians being assisted in their program by Mary E. Wetherall, contralto; Doris M. Gale, soprano, and Hazel M. Estes, pianist. Those who took part were Madeline Fortson, Lillian Shapiro, Helen Whitcomb, Effie Griffin, Helen Novick, Evelyn Harmon, Gladys Cornish, Louise Davis, Ruth Morse, Kenneth Stearns, Frances Clough, Marion Day, Franette Chausman, Dorothy Lane, Dorothy Wenden, Eleanor Fenton, Viola Day, Norman Day, Doris Yeeder, Katherine Bartlett, Helena Hardy, Madeline Cryan, and Hazel Estes.

The ushers were Misses Margaret Burtt, Mabel E. Bynon and Doris M. Gale.

OBSERVE FEAST OF SACRED HEART

Special masses were celebrated in all the Catholic churches this morning in honor of the Feast of the Sacred Heart. Appropriate services this evening will usher out the feast day. Confessions were heard in the afternoon and evening yesterday, and resulted in a large number of communicants this morning. A 40 hours' devotion opened this morning at the Church of the Sacred Heart and will close with a solemn high mass at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

On the second evening of the triduum at St. Columba's church, public adoration of the Blessed Sacrament was carried out last night from 7 to 9 o'clock. The observance will be brought to a close this evening, when, following a solemn procession and the crowning of the statue of the Sacred Heart by the children of the parish, a sermon and benediction will take place. The public consecration of the parish to the Sacred Heart will occur during the benediction. Recitation of the rosary, sermon, and benediction will feature the evening services in other churches.

PIANO RECITAL IN COLONIAL HALL

A large and appreciative audience listened to the annual piano recital given in Colonial hall last night by the pupils of Miss Anna F. Scannell. Miss Louise Dunne assisted by reading several selections. Those who took part included: Goldie and Ruth Perkins, Francis Wilson, Pearl Gwyman, Eva Fine, Mary Dorney, Minnie Gerson, Eleanor Comer, Marie Fiten, Margaret Droney, Ruth Bass, Esther Morrison, Bessie Levine, Sarah and Elizabeth Solomon, Helen O'Hearn, Helen Cunningham, Mildred Webb, Lillian Bean, Diana Chicoline, Ethel O'Brien, Lane Pinder, Kathleen Wilson, Walter Sargent and Harold Bass.

PROMOTIONS MADE IN BATTERY B

As the result of schooling non-commissioned officers of headquarters detachment, connected with Battery B, received at Camp Devens this past week several promotions have been announced. Sergt. Balla has been promoted to sergeant-major to fill the rank made vacant by Sergeant-Major Peterson, who has been given an honorable discharge. Corporals Fineran and Rousseau have been elevated to sergeants and First Class Privates Draper and Harris to corporals.

The last outdoor mounted drill will be held Sunday, as after the Fourth of July the horses will be sent to the summer camp at Barnstable. The headquarters detachment is planning to take a trip to West Chalmersford with Capt. Fanner's outfit, the Combat train.

The payroll has nearly been completed and will arrive here some time next month. The men will be paid in quarterly installments instead of in semi-annual ones as in the past.

"ROOSEVELT CHAIR" DAMAGED BY FIRE

NEW YORK, June 23.—The chair reserved during his life for the late Theodore Roosevelt in the famous Little Hungarian restaurant in East Houston street, was damaged by fire in what formerly was the wine sub-cellar of the establishment early yesterday morning.

Col. Roosevelt was a frequent patron of the place when he was in New York, and while he was New York's police commissioner he often dined there in the evening. He was accustomed to sit in a certain conspicuous place, and regularly occupied the same chair. When he became president the "Roosevelt chair" became famous in New York restaurant circles, and was carefully prized. It last sat in the chair in 1916. Since his death it has been kept carefully wrapped in the one-time wine cellar, except for one occasion, when Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt occupied it at a business men's dinner about six weeks ago.

LOWELL MECHANIC PHALANX A general good time is in store for the members of Lowell Mechanic Phalanx, which will be held at the camp of the organization Sunday. A brief business meeting will be held and then dinner will be served. The remainder of the day will be taken up with sports of all kinds. The members are to meet at the state armory in Westford street at 9 o'clock to board automobiles, which will convey them to the camp.

HELD CONFERENCE IN MILFORD, N. H.

Delegates from 15 cities and towns in this state and New Hampshire gathered at Milford, N. H., yesterday for a meeting of the North Middlesex conference which was held with the First Unitarian society. Thomas H. Elliott of this city, president of the conference, was the presiding officer. Shortly before the close of the afternoon business session an invitation was read and accepted to hold the next conference meeting in Tyngsboro. The program dealt almost entirely with business, with short discussions of methods for promoting denominational efficiency. The morning session was given over to discussion of sermons and the participation of the young people of the different churches in the church activities.

At the close of the morning session luncheon was served in the Grand Army building by the women of the Milford church. The afternoon session was taken up with the discussion of financial problems.

ARE SUMMONED TO APPEAR IN COURT

Deputy Sheriff George H. Stevens was at city hall last night to serve papers on the mayor and members of the city council, summoning them to appear before the supreme judicial court on July 11, to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not issue, compelling them to recognize Albert J. Blazon as a member of the board of assessors. The writ petitioned for by Qua, Howard & Rogers, attorneys for Mr. Blazon, is returnable on that day.

STREET CAR STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

During the electrical storm of yesterday afternoon, an Eastern Massachusetts street car, operated by Joseph Moore, was struck by lightning, as it was leaving Lakeview about 2 o'clock. Although the car was put out of commission, none of the passengers was injured.

RIBBON RUFFS

Ruffs, made of ribbon and flowers, are a pleasant midsummer substitute for the summer fur. The most lovely ones are made of metal ribbon, pink or blue predominating, with flowers caught in between the loops. These are appropriate for only festive occasions.

THROUGH CARS RUNNING

Starting at 1:45 p. m. yesterday and continuing throughout the day, service along the full length of the Highlands route was resumed. The replacing of the old rails in Osgood street has been completed, with crushed stone forming a road bed beneath the ties. The large amount of filling which remains to be done will not in any way interfere with traffic by the street cars.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.—Adv.

Why Woman Will Go to Gallows Despite Plea of Prosecutor

BY DUDLEY A. SIDDALL

ATLANTA, Ga., June 23.—Twelve southern men have voted to hang a southern woman.

This in Georgia, a state famous for the chivalry of its men toward its women.

Date of execution is set for July 28. Good grounds exist for the statement of Col. William Schley Howard, prominent Atlanta lawyer, that women are tumbling from their man-created pedestal and must pay the same penalty for crime as men, because of—

Woman suffrage and invasion of men's fields in business.

He cites Georgia's well known antipathy toward the suffrage movement, in interpreting the verdict in the case of Mrs. Cora Vinson. She shot and killed her husband, Dr. W. D. Vinson, in his Atlanta office last March.

"I have never asked a jury to send a woman to the gallows," said Solicitor General John A. Boykin to the jury, "and I won't begin now. Therefore I ask a verdict of guilty with a recommendation of mercy." His request was in effect, for a life sentence.

Jury Orders Death

Yet the jury returned with a verdict of guilty without a recommendation for mercy. There was nothing for Judge John D. Humphries to do but sentence Mrs. Vinson to hang.

Lawyers, officials and citizens were amazed at the action of the jurors. As such crimes go, this was no more shocking than scores of which women have been free or sent to prison. Only once, 50 years ago, has a white woman been hanged in Georgia.

Col. Howard, native Georgian, keen student of public opinion, three times a member of congress, and engaged by Dr. Vinson's son to aid the state in prosecuting the young man's stepmother, played an active part in the trial. He watched every move. Here

"The men of Georgia have always been noted for their chivalry toward women. They have held women on a pedestal. In the past this chivalry has been carried into our jury rooms. It has been almost impossible for a jury of men to find a woman guilty of a serious crime.

"But of late years," Col. Howard continued, "the women of Georgia, like women of other states, have shown a tendency to come down from this man-created pedestal. They have demanded equal rights, in politics and business. In every way they have indicated their desire to be treated as men.

"Why then should a woman—solely on sex grounds—be accorded any special privilege by a jury?"

Col. Howard's views are partly borne out by an expression from E. L. Bradley, who was foreman of the Vinson jury.

"I believe," said Bradley, "that a woman should pay the same penalty for crime as a man. There have been recently several atrocious murders of husbands by their wives. The women have gotten off with light sentences, owing to the fact that a prison term for life means the convict is eligible for parole after three years. The jurors felt it their duty to their sworn word and the state to bring in this verdict."

Was Premeditated

It was established that Mrs. Vinson killed her husband after premeditation. She had persuaded him to deed her his property. Not long ago he applied for divorce.

The doctor was 65, his wife 44. Both had previously been married when they went to the altar 20 years ago. For the last six years they lived a quarrelsome existence, culminating in the divorce action brought by the doctor a few months ago. To block the divorce, the wife, unsuccessfully tried to have herself adjudged insane.

"Was it his property or the man she wanted?"

"I loved my husband," says Mrs. Vinson.

"I didn't care about his property. I just didn't want some other woman to have him. I didn't mean to kill him. I'm sorry I did it."

"Best?" Yes she is sane. Married first at 14, she had only the education that falls to a mountain-born woman whose childhood was spent in the cotton mills. But she is intelligent, answers questions directly, and is "a model prisoner."

"She ought to be set free," says her 17-year-old daughter, who comes to visit her every day and who on the slender income of a part-time city fireman's wife, is caring for two smaller children by the Vinson marriage.

"She ought to hang," says her stepson, who engaged counsel to help the state send Mrs. Vinson to the gallows.

Lawyers Puzzled

Criminal lawyers admit they are puzzled by the action of the jury. Woman's status when in the dock for murder, they say, may be changing on account of woman suffrage and woman's entrance into business with men.

"The verdict in the Vinson case is incomprehensible to me and other lawyers," stated Judge Newton A. Morris of Marietta, Ga., former circuit judge of the Blue Ridge circuit and ex-speaker of the Georgia house of representatives. He, with two other expert criminal lawyers, John T. Dorsey and Sam Hewlett, have undertaken the defense despite the fact that the only fee in sight was the proffered—and quickly declined—diamond ring of the 17-year-old daughter.

"In my long legal experience," continued Judge Morris, "I have never had a greater surprise than when the jury went beyond the verdict asked and voted to hang Mrs. Vinson."

SHE SEEKS TO SAVE MOTHER, CONDEMNED

ATLANTA, Ga., June 23.—Every day a soft-voiced, light-haired girl of 17 presents herself at the barred doors of Atlanta's jail, "the Tower." She calls to see her mother, Mrs. Cora Vinson, who is condemned to be hanged on July 28 for the murder of Dr. W. D. Vinson, husband of the condemned woman and father of the girl.

The daughter is Mrs. Pauline Brown. She believes her mother was justified in killing her father.

TWO MEN INJURED Motorcycle Turns Turtle After Hitting Telegraph Pole

William Carlton of 44 Pine Hill st. and John Ryan of 20 Carter street were injured last evening when the motorcycle in which they were riding turned turtle in First street after colliding with a telegraph pole. Archibald Ramsay of 16 Pine Hill street, who was driving the cycle, escaped uninjured. The accident occurred at about 10 o'clock at a point near the car barn. Ramsay claims that he became blinded by the headlights of an automobile and misjudging his distance, he drove his cycle against the pole. Carlton and Ryan were taken to St. John's hospital by Samuel M. Davis of Nashua, N. H. Ramsay returned to his home after receiving treatment, but Carlton was kept for observation. His injuries are not considered serious.

WILL ATTEND HEARING IN WASHINGTON

Dr. Patrick J. Bagley, president, and Councilors Smith J. Adams, Edward Appleton and Frank H. Stearns will make up the delegation representing the city at the hearing to be held in Washington in July on the Merrimack river navigation project. It is expected, also, that City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney will be one of the party.

When the mayor decided that he would be unable to make the trip, he asked President Bagley to go in his place. This left another chance for a councillor. Councillor Adams was named by the president as the framer of the order and last night names of other councillors who would be able to go were placed in a hat. The two drawn were Messrs. Appleton and Stearns.

CIGAR FACTS

Output

There are still a few New England cigar smokers left who remember the first J. A. delivery van—a gigantic cigar box body—drawn by a spanking highstepper. We thought we were big then, but today a fleet of fast motor trucks deliver more cigars every working day than we used to make in a whole week in the days of the horse-drawn van.

This steady growth proves that our policy of—"making and selling the very best cigar at its price"—is sound. Our determination never to allow the quality of J. A. to fall from the standard set 59 years ago tells you why the quality of J. A. is always the same.

J. A.'s cost more to make because we use only the highest grade leaf and employ only highly skilled union workers, but this extra cost to us means extra satisfaction to you.

PLOT TO INDICT THREE JUSTICES

Allen Discloses Plot to Have Justices of Mass. Supreme Court Indicted

Sinister Attempt to Undermine Faith of People in Integrity of Courts

CAMBRIDGE, June 22.—An alleged plot whereby three justices of the Massachusetts supreme court would have been indicted, thus incapacitating the court in its recent hearing of the cases of those "who were charged with corruption," was disclosed by Attorney General J. Weston Allen in an address at the Harvard university alumni exercises today.

"The plan in part failed or was abandoned," said Mr. Allen, "but it was a sinister attempt to undermine the faith of the government in the integrity of the courts, a veiled attempt upon the government itself. Filled in this purpose to prevent a trial, overwhelmed by the evidence produced against them of corruption and corruption, before their accusers, these men have weakly endeavored to claim bias on the part of the court."

RAINED FOR SEVEN HRS.

Serious Delay to Traffic on Maine Central Caused by Cloudburst Today

PORTLAND, Me., June 22.—Serious delay to traffic on the Maine Central railroad system was caused today by a cloudburst along the Penobscot river valley, particularly in the vicinity of Bangor. The downpour lasted seven hours, ending about 4 o'clock this morning.

Dozens of washouts between Bangor and points a score of miles east of that city, held up trains on the Maine line, while on the Rockland division, no trains were run between Rockland and Waldoboro, because of washouts and the flooding of the track along much of the 18-mile stretch. Made were being transferred between these two points by motor trucks.

The Bangor and Rockland yards were reported as having been seriously flooded.

PRESIDENT WITHOUT A REPUBLIC MISSING

SHANGHAI, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Sun Yat Sen, the president without a republic, has disappeared, according to advices received from the south by Chinese circles here.

An unconfirmed message from the Canton region states that Sun's naval forces fled to the scene of his defeat and now he is making his way toward Shanghai by an undisclosed route.

WALKER GETS CONTRACT
Daniel H. Walker has been successful in securing the contract for the general construction of the new factory for the Ohio fathers of the Church of the Sacred Heart. The electrical work will be done by J. J. McElholm, the steamfitters by Carroll Brothers and the plumbing by J. J. Mulaney. It is planned to have the roof of the building in place sometime in the fall.

HULL ASSAILS G. O. P. CONGRESS

WATERVILLE, Me., June 22.—By electing another republican congress the American people would ratify the record of the last two "Incompetent, leaderless and do-nothing" republican congresses and take the risk of continuing the period of "business depression, demoralization and economic prostration given to the country by the first 15 months of the Harding administration. Cordell Hull, chairman of the democratic national committee, declared at a meeting of Maine democrats here today.

"Why should even the most ignorant voters," Mr. Hull said, "favor the election of another republican congress, composed largely of the membership of the present congress, which republican leaders and republican newspapers throughout the country have characterized in language more damning than any that has been spoken by its political opponents. When Secretary of War Weeks suddenly testified in a recent speech that the highest public estimate of the present congress was that it had reached 'the lowest ebb,' his statement implied many important things not expressly mentioned.

"This estimate of congress by the secretary and the general public necessarily means that this republican congress had reached 'the lowest ebb' of any previous congress, of whatever political complexion in the nation's history; that the present national administration, at least to the extent that the great legislative branch of the government can make it possible, has resolutely responded by 'low ebb' and that the republican leadership in control of the government has reached the same 'lowest ebb'; a political party in control of the government is the government itself."

The republican "master minds" of which the party leaders have boasted in recent years as "superiority," readily capable of effecting all necessary readjustments despite the fact that they have had "full opportunity of three and a half years" to accomplish this, Mr. Hull said, have disappointed all classes by "failure to adopt any broad, definite policies, domestic or foreign, for the relief of the American people."

"The American people are now realizing and appreciating as never before," Mr. Hull said in conclusion, "the broad, constructive and wholesome achievements of the recent democratic administration. They now realize that the fundamentals of both the administration and foreign policy of that administration were eternally sound and are being vindicated every month."

PRES. LOWELL SPEAKS AT COMMENCEMENT

CAMBRIDGE, June 22.—American colleges can render an indispensable service in blending the different racial groups that pour into the country, said President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard university in an address at the Alumni exercises at the Harvard commencement today.

"To leave out of sight the interests of any group whatever, to fail to consult members of that group about its interests would be wrong," President Lowell asserted. "To shut the eyes to an actual problem of this kind and ignore its existence, or to refuse to grapple with it courageously, would be unworthy of a university."

His remarks were interpreted by the alumni as referring to recent reports that Harvard planned discrimination against the Jews and barred negroes from freshman dormitories.

"There is a matter which has been much discussed recently," the president said, "and has attracted much attention in the press, about which I must say something and should say more were it not that a committee drawn from the various faculties is now considering the matter, and it would be improper for me to forestall their opinion."

After recalling the ease with which newcomers were assimilated in the earlier period of the country, President Lowell continued: "Of late there have come to us from every part of Europe mutual antipathies among men bred in the old world. We must, if we can, see that such feelings are not fostered here."

"But mark this: We often speak of Americanization as if the American were a finished product. The American has been in the making ever since the first white man set foot upon our shores, and will continue to be in the making so long as streams of foreigners pour into our land. Americanization does not mean merely molding them to an already settled type, but the blending together of many distinct elements."

"In the blending of these different groups our colleges, where young men of all kinds mingle in common pursuits, and share common interests and ambitions, can render an indispensable service."

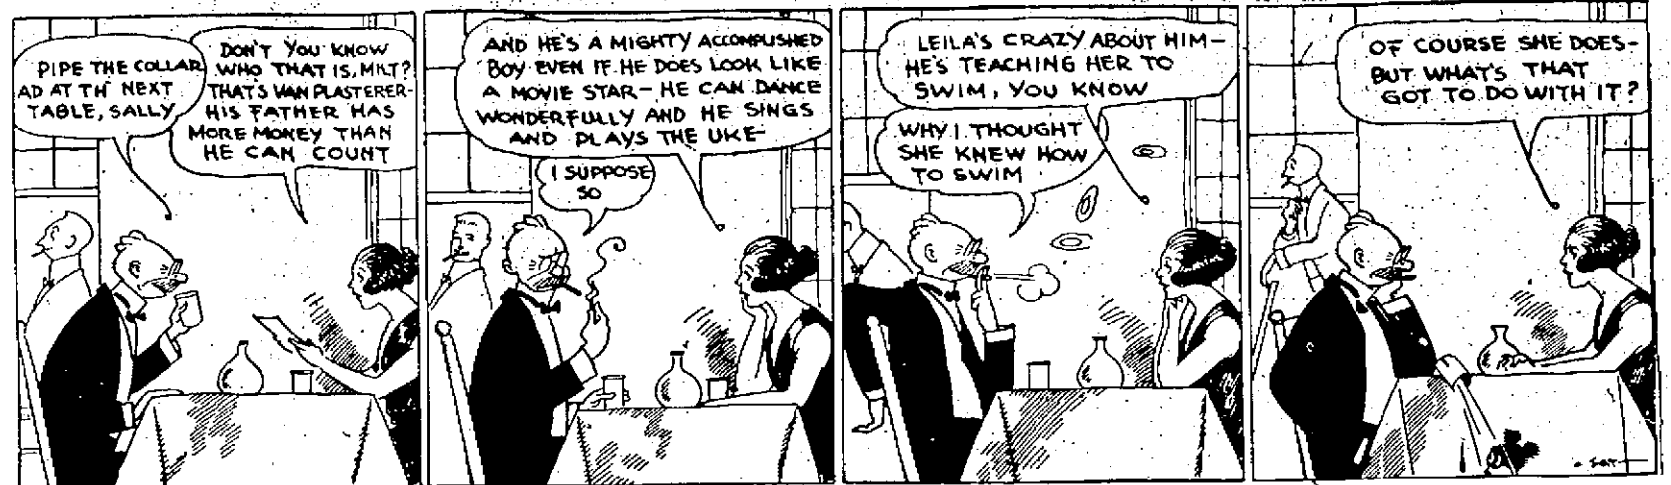

"To leave out of sight the interests of any group whatever, to fail to consult members of that group about its interests, would be wrong. To shut the eyes to an actual problem of this kind and ignore its existence, or to refuse to grapple with it courageously, would be unworthy of a university."

GRAMMAR SCHOOL LEAGUE CHAMPION

The Edison school ball team became the champion outfit of the Lowell grammar school league this morning, when they defeated the Green school team on the South common by a score of 16 to 7. The game was somewhat of a narrow affair, with first one team and then the other taking the lead. In the sixth, however, the Green school infield went bad, and with five hits, a base on balls and three errors, the Edison piled up a lead which could not be overcome.

Nelson, pitcher for the Edison, was the star of the game. Besides retiring nine of the opposing batters by the strike out route, he batted like a Ty Cobb, getting a double, triple and two singles. His opponent, Ducharme, is also deserving of credit. He struck out ten and gave three passes. With better support he might have won.

This game, the last of the season, settled the superiority between Divisions A and B. The Edison headed the A division, and the Green the B. Physical Instructor Donald MacIntyre umpired the game, assisted by Triant Officer Wm. P. Thornton. Several of the school committee members were present as spectators.

That Delicious Bread —of Energy and Iron

SERVE raisin bread twice weekly on your table for three reasons:

1. Flavor; 2. Energy; 3. Iron
- You remember how good a generously filled, full-fruited raisin bread can be. Your grocer can supply a loaf like this.
- Insist—if he hasn't one he can get it for you.
- Full-fruited bread is full of luscious seeded Sun-Maid raisins—rich in energizing nutriment in practically digested form.
- Raisins also furnish fatigue-resisting iron for the blood. Serve plain raisin bread at dinner or as a tasty fruited breakfast toast with coffee.
- Make delicious bread pudding with left-over slices. No need to waste a crumb of raisin bread.
- Begin this week the habit of raisin bread twice weekly in your home, for raisin bread is both good and good for you.

LAWRENCE STRIKERS TO FIGHT TO FINISH

FALL RIVER, June 22.—The Lawrence strike situation, organization work accomplished in a number of textile centres in the state of Connecticut and preliminary work done for the organization of the Federated Textile Unions of America, were the principal questions discussed at the morning session of the seventh annual convention of the American Federation of Textile Operatives. Reports were also considered, and the auditorium reported on Treasurer William Harwood's report for the past year.

Organizer Oliver Christian of Lawrence, who has been in charge of the strike in that city, declared the strikers are still very firm and decided to fight the battle until the end.

Organizer Peter Housley of Plainfield, Conn., announced that since last February 3,000 members of five local unions in Connecticut have joined the ranks of the A.F.T.O.

Secretary John P. O'Connell of Salem also submitted his annual report. He stated that when the Federated Textile Unions of America will hold its first regular convention in August, it will have a total membership of 160,000.

HARDING QUESTIONED ON WEEKS' STATEMENT

DALLAS, Tex., June 22.—President Harding was asked whether Secretary of War Weeks was voicing the policy of the administration in criticizing the Volstead act in a telegram sent today to the executive by the Rev. Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas.

LONDON, June 22.—There were 12,525 bales offered at the wool auction sales today. It was a fair selection and was practically all taken up by home and continental buyers at full recent values.

HOUSE OF THE PEOPLE

Becoming Recognized Duty of a Self-Respecting Nation, Says Lovejoy

PROVIDENCE, R. I. June 23.—The house of the people is becoming the recognized duty of a self-respecting nation, Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary of the National Child Labor committee, said in an address here today before the National Conference of Social Work, reviewing the progress of the past ten years in standards of living and labor. He cited the chamber of commerce in the United States as an example of "those agencies that have espoused the cause of housing as a matter of business."

perhaps the most gigantic—the business of clothing profit from the appropriation of work made—put under the ban," Mr. Lovejoy said. "We have seen in the past, attempts to fix a minimum below which industry shall not be allowed to entice the efforts of human beings."

"We have seen an epidemic of unemployment. We halt and stagger in grappling with the problem, but at least we no longer ignore it. We have at least discovered that the problem is national and that no one community can handle it alone. Also that until we learn to develop a relation between an industrial and an agricultural life, we shall continue to throw our whole labor problem out of balance."

"We have seen child labor lifted from the debates of the woman's clubs and the protests of the poets and set forth as a national responsibility."

"We declare that in spite of the reactionary forces which still bind us to the past and the self interest that still works to disintegrate, we are headed forward and we shall see of at least effort to stop bleeding from the gums, pass on to posterity, the possibility of before the transfusion took place, seeing how a nation can actually house and feed and clothe itself without making it the chief and consuming occupation of life and without destroying any of its people or any other people in the process."

BOY GAVE BLOOD TO SAVE HIS FATHER

PORTLAND, Me., June 23.—Transfusion of a pint of blood from his 15-year-old son, Patrick, is believed to have saved the life of P. J. Finherly, a laborer at the Portland terminal company, after he had a continuous hemorrhage of the lungs for nearly 60 hours. He was reported improved yesterday at a hospital where three teeth were removed in an unsuccessful effort to stop bleeding from the gums, before the transfusion took place.

TO ESTABLISH LABOR DEFENSE COUNCIL

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 23.—(By the Associated Press)—With the avowed purpose of meeting all legal attacks aimed at labor unions, the American Federation of Labor yesterday added to its program for curbing the power exercised by the courts by directing the establishment at Washington of a labor defense council, composed of lawyers selected by the federation's officers. The council primarily will defend the union against any suits that may be filed under recent supreme court decisions adverse to labor.

The program of four constitutional amendments, repeal of the Sherman anti-trust law and enactment of two new measures, which was adopted by the convention by almost a unanimous vote, will require years of campaign before adoption, speakers said in urging the creation of the defense council. The amendments include a congressional veto of supreme court decisions, the guarantee to labor of the right to organize, to bargain collectively and to strike, the prohibition of child labor and adoption of an easier method than the present for amending the constitution. Enactment of a new federal child labor law, and also a law interpreting the labor sections of the Clayton act, were included as a part of the program. Approaching the end of the convention, the delegates set aside tomorrow morning for the annual election of officers.

G. A. R. VETS GUEST AT STRAWBERRY SUPPER

Members of Admiral Farragut camp, auxiliary, 47, S. of V., entertained the members of the camp and members of the G. A. R. at a strawberry supper last evening. The affair was held in Memorial hall and was under the direction of Mrs. Lydia Barlett, chairman of the supper committee. Prior to the supper a brief business meeting was held and it was voted to hold an outing at the camp of Mrs. Sadie Sawyer.

"Sylpho-Nathol is a sanitary safeguard"

"When you think of all the conveniences of modern housekeeping, it makes you realize how many difficulties our dear old grandmothers had to contend with. How they would have appreciated the help of Sylpho-Nathol in keeping things sweet and healthfully clean."

"I often wonder what Grandmother Pratt would say if she could see the many ways in which I use Sylpho-Nathol around the house. In her day, soap and elbow grease and untiring energy removed dirt and dust. But they had no effect on the germs which dirt and dust leave behind in floor cracks and crannies. Nor did they remove the unpleasant odors that persist so annoyingly in even the most scrupulously kept homes."

"Grandmother, and even mother, had to put up with these things. But modern housewives don't—that is, they don't have to if they use Sylpho-Nathol as I do."

Sylpho-Nathol was discovered by a prominent New England physician who realized the need for an effective household disinfectant and deodorant that would overcome the objections which women feel toward ordinary, unpleasant-smelling, hard-to-use preparations.

Sylpho-Nathol destroys germs. Though 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid, it's as safe to have around the house as a cake of soap. It cannot hurt your hands nor injure household things.

Sylpho-Nathol dispels odors. It quickly drives them away when poured down sink drains; or sprinkled in garbage cans; or used around bathroom fixtures and as a flush for the closet bowl; or sprinkled in damp, musty-smelling corners. But its own faint, friendly smell doesn't linger.

Sylpho-Nathol is easy to use. A teaspoonful in a quart of warm water makes a clean-smelling, pearly-gray mixture that's ready for immediate application.

Sylpho-Nathol comes in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c and $1.25. Most good grocers and druggists have it. If yours hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

CONSOLIDATION OF SIX SMALL UNIVERSITIES

NEW YORK, June 23.—Confederation of six small universities in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick to form one strong university at Halifax is recommended in a bulletin published yesterday by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

The six institutions of the maritime provinces which it is proposed to unite are King's College, Windsor, N. B., Dalhousie University, Halifax, N. B., Acadia University, Wolfville, N. B., Mt. Allison University, Sackville, N. B., St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, N. B., and the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton, N. B.

The plan prepared after a study by Dr. William E. Learned of the Foundation staff, and Dr. Kenneth G. M. Sims, president of Bowdoin college, would involve raising $4,500,000 of new funds. Each college would maintain individual class-rooms and dormitories for separate teaching of freshmen and sophomores. Advanced courses, honor courses and expensive laboratory sciences would be taught in a central university by a joint board and partially supported by the provinces.

The bulletin maintains that the plan would permit the denominational colleges to retain and strengthen their denominational character, and at the same time offer their students privileges possible only at universities of the first class.

Touching on general educational conditions in the maritime provinces the investigators reported that educational policy was a political product, the effect being a spirit that education must "keep its place." A "widespread apathy towards public education" was attributed to Nova Scotia, where, the bulletin said, the universal attitude is to "let the government do it, instead of the healthy threat to put in the people who will do it."

These and other drawbacks, the investigators felt, would be ameliorated by the proposed amalgamation.

WILL HOLD ANNUAL MILITARY MASS

Few details remain uncarved for in connection with the annual military mass of the O.M.I. Cadets on next Sunday, and these will be taken care of at a meeting to be held this evening in the cadet armory at 8.30 o'clock.

This splendid church service, one of the most important events on the annual calendar of the cadets, was originated by Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O. M.I. organizer and founder of the military body. The first military mass in this connection was celebrated a number of years ago, and the annual event has come to be looked forward to with keen anticipation.

The mass will be celebrated at the Immaculate Conception church at 9 o'clock, and the program as outlined at the present time will include a number of excellent musical features. Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I., will preach the sermon of the day, and will deliver the same sort of interesting discourse as in the past. The decorations are to be most elaborate, outdoing those of any previous undertaking of like nature.

Besides the numerous former cadets and present members, delegations from Battery B and the local post of the American Legion are expected to be present. It is expected also that with favorable weather the attendance will equal that of last year, when the church was crowded to the doors.

You Can Do It Better With Gas

Next Winter Gas Will Be "The Friend in Need"

Very few people have any realization of the condition of the country at the present time as it relates to coal.

With the strike of coal miners continuing from week to week, the coal shortage is becoming more and more acute, and it may be impossible to get coal at all when the cold weather sets in.

There is also a probability that coal prices will advance unless the coal strike is settled.

"Homes Equipped With Gas Appliances"

will be considered lucky indeed.

Next winter the All Gas Kitchen will be the ideal kitchen.

No matter what the price of coal is, or will be, cooking by gas is the cheapest method—because you can keep it down to just the work you have to do without waste; and you pay for just what gas you use after you have used it; not before.

We will be pleased to have one of our representatives call upon you without any obligation on your part, to discuss with you the best and cheapest method of conducting your kitchen. Just telephone 349 or 5986, and a gas man will visit you.

JOE WALKER'S PLATFORM

Favors Enforcement of Dry Law — Participation in League—Against Bonus

BOSTON, June 22.—Joseph Walker, former speaker of the Massachusetts house, announced today the platform upon which he will be a candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator in opposition to Senator Lodge.

Mr. Walker said the first issue before the people today was whether they should have a progressive or a reactionary leadership. He said he favored a rigorous enforcement of the 18th amendment and the prohibition act; participation by this nation in the league of nations; tariff making upon scientific rather than political methods; and full participation by women in political affairs and office holdings. He declared himself as against the bonus or adjusted compensation and as standing for abandonment of political methods as exemplified in the election and seating of Senator Newberry and for the scrapping of political machines.

NATURALIZATION COURT HERE ON THURSDAY

A naturalization court for final papers will be held at the courthouse in Gorham street on Thursday, June 23, and all residents of Lowell, who have taken out their second papers and are eligible to become full-fledged citizens of the United States are requested to be on hand early with their witnesses. The local post of the American Legion is issuing an appeal to its members who are eligible for final papers to be at the courthouse early. It is expected that the permanent naturalization committee of the French-speaking people of the city will have a large class of candidates present at the session.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Frederick W. Knox of Chelmsford and Miss May E. Bell of this city were married June 21 at the parsonage of the Lawrence Street P. M. church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. John Singleton. Miss Arville Knox was bridesmaid, while the best man was Mr. Robert M. Bell.

After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home in this city.

Early-Quinn

Mr. James L. Earley of Roxbury and Miss Esther Quinn, formerly of this city and now of Brookline, were married Wednesday at St. Lawrence's church, Brookline, by Rev. Fr. McManis, formerly of this city. The bridegroom was Miss Frances M. Bourke, a cousin of the bride, while the best man was Mr. Daniel E. Cosgrove of Charlestown. At the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the new home of the couple in Fisher avenue, Roxbury, and in attendance were guests from Lowell, Providence, R. I., and New Jersey. The couple left later on an automobile honeymoon trip and they will be at home to their friends after July 5.

BOY BITTEN BY COLLIE DOG

The 48th dog bite of the year was reported to the board of health today. James Gaffney, 14-year-old son of Dr. J. P. Gaffney, of 104 D street, was bitten by a collie dog owned by Mr. Tenby, of 67 D street. The owner of the dog was out of town for the day and could not be reached. The case was turned over to Dr. Sherman for investigation, who found the dog being detained at the house of a neighbor.

Dental Clinic Closed

On every school day during the 11 months. The clinic was established in 1913 and Dr. Kent was elected by the health board as the dental surgeon in charge. At that time he had no attending nurse, but now he is assisted daily by Miss Eva Lantagne. A class room on the second floor of the Worthen Street school has been given over for the purposes of the clinic. A three-quarter partition divides the work room from the office and waiting room. A splendid dental outfit was bought for the clinic in 1919, with an especially constructed small chair for children's use. The equipment is particularly high grade and the doctor is able to do his work in adequate surroundings.

Nurses and physicians of the school department co-operate with Dr. Kent in the operation of the system of examination and treatment of the teeth of any children in the elementary schools. The nurses particularly are in close touch with the clinic, for it is their duty to see to it that every child who needs dental attention is sent or taken to the clinic, bearing by card signed by either parent or guardian. This is absolutely necessary and no work is done unless the child has such a card, properly signed.

A most complete card index record is kept in the clinic office by Miss Lantagne and from it she is able to give the name of each child that has been treated at the clinic since its institution, as well as the school from which it came and the nature of the work done upon its teeth. The record of a child is kept from the time it first comes to the clinic until it leaves the elementary grades.

Monthly Dr. Kent sends a complete report of his work for that period to the division of hygiene, state department of health and a copy to Dr. Francis A. Finnegan, local supervisor of school hygiene. The clinic is open every school day between the hours of 9 a. m. and noon, although many times Dr. Kent does not leave until long after that time. If the work demands his attention. As a rule, five or six children are treated daily, with eight or ten the maximum. The work fluctuates considerably and the mere fact that the number of pupils treated in any one month is less than in a preceding one, does not necessarily mean that less work is being done, for upon the nature of the work depends the number to be treated. Of course, the clinic might be housed in a more satisfactory building and its further development easily is possible if additional dental workers were secured. In particular, the work would be greatly developed if it were possible to make a complete and periodic examination of the teeth of all children in the grade schools. This would bring many more cases to light, and the clinic itself would have to be enlarged, but with the present personnel a most important phase of school hygiene is being adequately carried on. Dr. Kent, whenever possible, concentrates his efforts upon saving so-called six-year molar teeth, for upon their growth hinges the entire development of a child's jaw.

BOUGHT "DRY" LAW

Tinkham Says Anti-Saloon League Spent 100 Million to Get Prohibition

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Declaring that Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, "had expended from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 to secure adoption of the prohibition amendment," Representative Tinkham, Massachusetts, attacked the department of justice yesterday in the house for failing to act against the league under the corrupt practices act.

Mr. Tinkham's attack brought from Representative Callahan, democratic Massachusetts, criticism of the latter's stand regarding the sale of liquor on American ships at sea.

In refusing to act against such ships Mr. Callahan declared, Commissioner Haynes made himself "particeps criminis."

The two Massachusetts members were classed among "friends of wine and beer, in direct violation of the constitution of the United States," by Representative Cramton, republican, Michigan, who gained the floor after the attack on the Anti-Saloon league. The league will be judged in the constitutionality of the United States," by Representative Cramton, republican, Michigan, who gained the floor after the attack on the Anti-Saloon league.

Mr. Tinkham declared that before congress adjourned it should enact a law making it a crime for any person, corporation, association or organization interested in the passage or repeal of legislation "to purchase, or by spending money to influence the election of men who will favor their selfish interests." He asserted that the Anti-Saloon league of Minnesota, a subsidiary of the general organization, had filed no return of expenditures at Washington although it was "common knowledge" that more than $10,000 was used. And charged that Mr. Wheeler has systematically and on a wholesale plan subsidized in the way indicated in the case of Representative Volstead many members of congress and concealed the facts by not complying with the federal corrupt practices act of 1910 until the election of 1920 and then under written protest.

Describing Ulysses Sam as the biggest bootlegger of them all, Representative Callahan asserted that under the Volstead act prohibition officers were required to seize all ships on which liquor is transported or sold and arrest those in charge.

"American transatlantic ships selling liquor become common nuisances under the Volstead law passed overwhelmingly by this house," Mr. Callahan declared, "and they will remain common nuisances no matter how much money congress votes in the way of subsidy."

PROMOTION OF ARMY OFFICERS SUSPENDED

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Suspension of promotion of all army officers below the grade of colonel, effective at once, was understood to have been decided upon by the senate military committee today. The action was taken largely as a result of the annual army appropriation bill which places a six months' bar against promotions after July 1.

REV. JOHN ALEXANDER HAMILTON DEAD

CAMBRIDGE, June 23.—The death of the Rev. John Alexander Hamilton, widely known in the Congregational denomination, at his home here yesterday, became known today.

Dr. Hamilton, who was 92 years old, had held several New England pastorates and was a former secretary of the Congregational Educational society. During the Civil war he served with the Sixth New Hampshire Volunteers.

HELD REHEARSAL

A well attended rehearsal of the British American Brass band was held Thursday evening at the Free church in Middlesex street under the direction of Mr. Robert McBride. Mr. McBride, who has just come over from England, is well known as a leader, having had charge of some of the well known bands in that country. A good rehearsal is anticipated for next Thursday. All members are requested to attend.

CHICAGO, June 23.—William "Sailor" Friedman, pugilist, and William "Red" Cohen, taxicab driver, were convicted of murder and sentenced to 14 years each in the penitentiary this morning before Judge John R. Caverly. David Edelman, brother-in-law of Judge Joseph Schulman, and Max Miller, brother of Hirsch Miller, were found not guilty.

SAYS SPOONERS ARE NUISANCE

LAWRENCE, June 23.—Spoonings is all right in its place but its place is not on the stone wall skirting the northwest corner of Jackson and Avon streets. At least residents of that section don't think so, for a complaint from them was received at the police station yesterday asking the officials to curb the nocturnal demonstration of the enamored on the wall.

Investigation by the police shows that this particular spot was selected as a result of the heavy rains and the dark nights attending them. It has long been an accepted fact that the necessary third party to successful love making is the moon. On rainy nights the moon is apt to be in its principal position, and it has not shown itself for a whole week. The area light on the corner of the two streets has proven more reliable. It tends to its business, rain or shine. Therefore, with its bright rays, it is tacitly chosen as an able substitute for the errant moon and under its dazzling brilliance the business of love making, you might say, flourishes.

The first dark night a few couples sought out the new love haven. They were evidently so pleased with the substitute that they "cold others" for on the following nights the "flappers" and their swains flocked to the wall like flies to a jar of molasses. The police must now stop the procedure, but the weather man says fair weather for today, and the moon may be back on the job.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Newspaper Advertising to Further Spread the Gospel Advocated

NEW YORK, June 23.—Newspaper advertising to further the spread of the gospel is strongly advocated by the publicity department of the Episcopal church, which has brought out its recommendations, after a thorough study of the question of advertising. In a pamphlet entitled "A Handbook of Church Publicity," issued under the authorization of the national council of the church.

"No one can look at the newspapers and magazines and doubt that it pays to advertise," says the Rev. Robert F. Gibson, executive secretary of the publicity department, and author of the text book. "Why should not this method of such proven efficiency be used for the propagation of the Gospel? Advertising is not necessarily sensational. It merely seems to be so because we are not accustomed to it for church purposes."

One of the striking features of the book is Mr. Gibson's strong advocacy of the fullest use by the churches of the advertising columns of the daily press not only for mere church notices but for spreading the Gospel among the masses.

"We have thought of publicity in the newspapers as a method of giving public notice of a service or a meeting, or of making public the account of something that has taken place," says Mr. Gibson. "We have thought too much of building up the attendance at a service or of exploiting persons or organizations. We are only beginning to think of church publicity in the public press as evangelistic in purpose. The newspapers themselves are really far ahead of the churches in their recognition of this evangelistic opportunity. Their editors are convinced that the problems of the world will never be solved rightly until Christian principles are applied and that therefore it is one of the functions of the public press to present and apply Christian principles. Advertising with an evangelistic purpose," says Mr. Gibson, "where the aim is to reach the unchurched, must be in the newspapers."

Mr. Gibson suggests a form of advertising to churches which will take the shape of a miniature sermon, "briefly interpreting some passage of scripture or briefly applying some Christian principle. Sermonettes, of a hundred words in length, with the name of the preacher and his church annexed, are also recommended. Mr. Gibson's conclusions and recommendations are the outcome of a resolution adopted by the national council at its Washington meeting last July.

Church promotion by radio, moving pictures, posters, etc., is also considered in the handbook.

Big Cities Have 511 Miles of Bridle Paths

CHICAGO, Ill., June 23.—It what has been termed a horseless age more than 511 miles of bridle paths are in use in 13 of the leading American cities and their vicinity, according to figures of the Horse Association of America. Chicago leads with approximately 200 miles; Boston has 100; Washington's trails are in the first rank in quality. Eight of the leading cities have forty-three riding schools. Horse shows are springing up in all parts of the country, especially in the neighborhood of summer resorts.

The Devon horse show held recently near Philadelphia had an attendance of 20,000 and the crowds even overran the polo fields.

The association says that bridle trails have been made through the Forest preserves near Chicago. These preserves cover more than 23,000 acres; Boston's trails lead through the country and the forest reservations. There are seven riding schools in the city and seven more in the suburbs.

Every Sunday afternoon from 300 to 500 riders use the trails which cover more than 75 miles in Rock Creek park, District of Columbia. Jumps in this park were laid out by President Roosevelt during his administration. Washington has eight miles of paths in Potomac park and around the speedway. Efforts are now being made to link Rock Creek park to Potomac park by a bridle trail along the Potomac river. Six miles of bridle paths in Central park, New York, are heavily crowded on Saturday afternoon and Sunday, and it is said that riders using the two miles of paths in Riverdale drive are occasionally forced out on the asphalt with the motorists. Van Cortlandt park has six miles which lead out of New York into many miles of country roads suitable for horseback riding. Brooklyn's bridle trails total thirty miles. Prospect park is used by an average of 400 riders.

Motors are excluded from Willsieken park at Philadelphia, where there are 12 miles of bridle trails. There are 18 miles of good riding in Brimont park at the same city, and numerous clubs near by maintain polo

Fields and Steep Chase Courses, the Statement Notes

The riding camps on San Francisco are reported as exceptionally large. There are four riding schools there and six miles of paths in Golden Gate park besides facilities in the way of mountain trails and beach riding. There are many routes suitable for no, definite bridle paths, and gravel roads somewhat avoided by motorists are available.

Plans are underway to develop a large riding club at Cleveland, O. Buffalo Riding club is building a clubhouse and a show grounds, with stables for 100 horses; another Buffalo club already accommodates approximately 100 horses.

horsesback riding near Los Angeles

Minneapolis, Minn., has fourteen miles of bridle paths; Baltimore, Md., seven; Buffalo, N. Y., three or four; St. Paul, Minn., four, and St. Louis, Mo., 15 or 16. Interest is developing in Detroit, Mich., where, although there are no definite bridle paths, and gravel roads somewhat avoided by motorists are available.

Every Chester Suit Must Go

Here's the Reason---

This Fall we will again operate all our Chester Clothes Shops on the original lines we so successfully inaugurated when we first started. Every suit just one price. We got away from this policy during the war, because conditions compelled us. We are again going to concentrate on the one idea—of just one price, the lowest possible price at all times and the best clothes in the world at that price.

And in order to clear our stocks to make ready for our return to our original policy, every Spring Suit and Topcoat has been replaced so low as to impel its speedy sale.

MEN BLIND TO WOMAN'S SUFFERING

How many men, think you, have any idea of the pain endured by women in their own households, and often without murmur? They have no patience when the overworked wife and mother begins to get pale, have headaches, sickness, faint spells, or is melancholy and cannot sleep. There is help for every woman in this condition, as evidenced by the many voluntary letters of recommendation which we are continually publishing in this paper for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to give it a trial.—Adv.

MRS. WILLIAMS

Nervous Indigestion Now Entirely
Overcome and She Has Gained
Eleven Pounds Taking Tanlac

"My health was so run down on account of stomach trouble that life was miserable and work was a burden," said Mrs. Emily Williams, 116 Lenox street, Boston, Mass., a popular dress-maker and ladies' tailor, in a recent statement regarding Tanlac.

"For two years past I have had indigestion so bad I was almost afraid to eat anything. No matter how simple my diet or how little I ate I suffered from sour stomach and nausea and would blot up with gas until I simply had to gasp for breath. My nerves were completely shattered and many a night I was so restless I had to get up and walk the floor.

"Tanlac helped me from the very day I started taking it and four bottles have built me up to the point of health. My stomach is in fine condition and my appetite so ravenous that I am eating more than I ever did before. My nerves are perfectly calm and I have not slept so well since I was a school girl. I have gained 11 pounds in weight and couldn't ask to feel better. I now know how to appreciate good health as I never did before. Tanlac has won my everlasting gratitude."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Adv.

PARTY LINES BROKEN

Great Interest in Statewide
Primaries in North Dakota

June 28

BISMARCK, N. D., June 28.—With party lines broken and disregarded, North Dakota is approaching its statewide primary June 28th with the interest centered in the struggle between the pro-segregation, administration and the Non-Partisan league for the control of the state government. Gov. R. A. Nestos, the first governor in the history of the United States to be elected in a recall campaign, is heading the combination of republicans and democrats aligned against the league. The latter is marshalling its forces under the name of republicans, the democratic members of the league signing up as republicans for the purposes of the primary.

The primary is strictly a North Dakota affair. While a candidate for United States senator is to be elected, the league and anti-league battle enters into this and the selection of the senator is one of the queerest angles ever presented to the people of a state.

Clyde J. Fraser, recalled governor, is the candidate for the Non-Partisan league. Porter J. McCumber is a candidate to succeed himself, and Ormsby McIlharg of Jamestown, a former private secretary of Senator McCumber, is also a candidate.

According to political observers, the primary will not give a line upon the trend of national feeling. Conditions politically, they contend, are too chaotic, the party label too easily changed, for any stamp of pro or anti to be declared from the result. Something of the tangled conditions can be guessed from the fact that the names of the same men appear on petitions of candidates named for democratic and republican office. No alignment has yet been made in this potpourri of politics stamping one side or the other as carrying the banner of progress, immobility or reaction.

Back of all these conditions trail the years in which North Dakota has been the experimental ground for economic theories, theories which needed a political party label for functioning, and still further back, are the years in which North Dakota was attempting to align itself under the progressive banner, upheld at that time by its near native son, Theodore Roosevelt.

Under these conditions six different elements entered into the campaign. The elements, each one paramount to some certain group or alignment or section, follow:

- 1.—Interested in the state ticket and the return of Gov. R. A. Nestos to the position he has held since Nov. last. This element has no candidate for the senatorship.
- 2.—The Non-Partisan league, with its members signing up as republicans. Its ticket headed by former Governor Fraser as candidate for United States senator, and with a complete state ticket, headed by B. F. Baker of Glenburn, a farmer, for governor.
- 3.—Democrats, supporting J. F. T. O'Connor for United States senator, and a complete state ticket.
- 4.—Porter J. McCumber, senator, ardently supported by former statewarts with followers in both the republican and non-partisan camps.
- 5.—Protest against the purpose of

TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray,
Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

the democrats to align with the Independent republicans, following the primary upon certain candidates from each ticket.

6.—Protest in republican ranks against the industrial experiments the state has been trying.

The preliminary campaign, up to the time of final filing for office, was a contest between the independent republican and the McCumber forces. The independents attempted to force the senator and his immediate followers to ally themselves with the independents against the Non-Partisan league. This was met by the equally insistent demand of the supporters of McCumber that the independents ally themselves with the senator regardless of the league question. Both sides failed in this effort, although some independent candidates have announced that they personally will vote for McCumber.

The third man in the race for senator, Ormsby McIlharg of Jamestown, is regarded as an unknown quantity.

Since his return to the state, less than a year ago, which accounts for his inability to vote in the primary, he has aligned himself with the independents. He is a former private secretary to Senator McCumber and has been absent from North Dakota for some years.

Governor Nestos is leading a state ticket on which George Shafer of Watford City is the candidate for attorney general, and Joseph A. Kitchen is asking renomination as commissioner of agriculture and labor. These three positions form the industrial commission which has control of the large business interests of the state.

The league candidates are B. W. Baker of Glenburn for governor, Peter (Farber) of Hattinger for attorney general, and W. J. Church of York for commissioner of agriculture and labor. Baker and Church are farmers, former members of the North Dakota senate, and familiar with the work of the state.

Several independent candidates are in the field, but the only one who is considered by politicians to have much of a chance is Silver Serungard of Devils Lake, candidate for commissioner of agriculture and labor. It is contended that he is taking votes from both sides.

TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS

Let Every Club Woman Confer on Herself Degree of "Doctor of Safety"

CHAUTAQUA, N. Y., June 23.—"If every club woman in the United States would confer on herself the degree of 'Doctor of Safety,' traffic accidents would soon be virtually 'done away with.'"

"Any woman's club can make a safety diagnosis of its own town, and cure the accident evil. Make a map of the city. Place a white pin at every point where a child accident occurred during the past year, and a blue pin for every adult accident on the highways. There you have a basis for determining accident causes."

"Are there many pins concentrated at certain points? Perhaps better lighting, more signs and more police are needed there. Are most of the pins in the middle of blocks rather than at intersections? Then a campaign to urge crossing at the crossings is needed. Are the child pins prevalent? Then more attention is needed in school instruction, in home training, in local playgrounds."

"Following this anatomy study, which should reveal the worst of the sore spots, should come a study of the police records on accident cases. At what time of day and year did these occur? Special traffic police relief at peak periods might help. What was the apparent cause of the accident? If speeding and carelessness are coming more in evidence, a campaign on public opinion on the part of the mother would be of great assistance in law enforcement."

"This diagnosis of the anatomy and the records is but the beginning of the task, but it is a beginning which has been largely overlooked. 'For the remedies one may turn to Detroit which has large playgrounds, and elaborate safety instruction in the schools; to Cleveland which has junior patrols to aid the young and the helplessness in crossing the street; to Buffalo, to Indianapolis, and to other cities on the Safety Honor Roll of 1921, where the local schools and associations will be able to tell what methods are being used to make their highways more safe.'"

"Among the other leading cities which recorded fewer traffic fatalities in 1921 than in 1920 are: Akron, O.; Atlanta, Ga.; Bayonne, N. J.; Berkeley, Calif.; Bridgeport, Conn.; Cincinnati, O.; Dayton, O.; Grand Rapids, Mich.; Lansing, Mich.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Newark, N. J.; New Rochelle, N. Y.; Norfolk, Va.; Ogden, Utah; Paterson, N. J.; Peoria, Ill.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Pittsfield, Mass.; Providence, R. I.; Richmond, Calif.; Trenton, N. J.; and Youngstown, O."

"If a child is injured in an automobile accident, however, someone may be arrested, the police may insist on all motorists carrying special cards, a few ordinances may be passed, but in most communities there will be no exhaustive examination of why that accident occurred."

SCHOOL PLAY TURNED INTO GRIM TRAGEDY

MARLBORO, June 23.—A school play was turned into a grim tragedy yesterday afternoon, when 15-year-old Mildred Deming, a toe-dancer in "Astris, the Health-Fairy," was probably fatally burned by her flimsy gown catching fire from a star of sparklers that she was carrying.

At the sight of their schoolmate running screaming from the darkened stage and out into the crowded high school assembly hall, several hundred pupils became panic-stricken and were quieted with difficulty by the teachers.

Michael Flannery, janitor of the school, was the first to realize the girl's peril. He grabbed her as she started to dart off the stage and with his bare hands tried to extinguish the flames that were curling about the little dancer's body. She managed to break away and crashed with fright into the crowded auditorium.

In a second Miss Mary E. Hines, the school nurse, who had just entered the hall, whipped off a linen duster she was wearing, and after flinging it about the burning girl, succeeded in smothering the flames.

In the meantime some of the pupils in the rear of the room had recovered from the first stages of their fright and were making their way into the open. Someone pulled in the school fire alarm and added to the excitement.

Superintendent of Schools E. P. Carr, who was in his office, heard the commotion, and after being told of the accident, sent an emergency call for Dr. J. J. Kelly. He gave first aid treatment to the girl and ordered her removal to Marlboro hospital, where she was found to be burned about the arms and body. Her name was placed on the danger list.

Janitor Flannery was also burned about the hands and face. He too was taken to the hospital, and after receiving treatment, was taken to his home. The burning occurred in the last act of the play and immediately afterward the audience was dismissed.

How the girl's gown caught fire has not yet been explained, although it is believed that one of the sparks from the blazing star she carried ignited the flimsy material, and before the fire was discovered, the girl was enveloped in flames.

GRAMPS, PAINS AND BACKACHE

St. Louis Woman Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered with cramps and pains every month and had backache and had to go to bed as I could not work. My mother and my whole family always took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for such troubles and they induced me to try it and it has helped me very much. I don't have cramps any more, and I can do my housework all through the month. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends for female troubles."—Mrs. DELLA SCHOLZ, 1412 Salisbury Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Just think for a moment. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been in use for nearly fifty years. It is prepared from medicinal plants, by the utmost pharmaceutical skill, and superior methods. The ingredients thus combined in the Compound correct the conditions which cause such annoying symptoms as had been troubling Mrs. Scholz. The Vegetable Compound exercises a restorative influence of the most desirable character, correcting the trouble in a gentle but efficient manner. This is noted, by the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms.

Jeweled instead of carved. Jeweled hair pins also are worn. To wear the hair high in Spanish fashion you must have well-kept hair. It must be brushed until it shines. It may be marcelled or worn plain. Women who prefer the low style of hair dressing like the wreath of leaves, the jeweled band, or the ribbon, worn low over the forehead.

The cap of coarse gold mesh, is a smart new fad, and is particularly desirable for sports wear, as it enables one to keep the hair in perfect shape even during the most strenuous exercise.

GRADUATION EXERCISES AT ST. LOUIS' SCHOOL

The commencement exercises for the graduates of the academic and grammar courses of St. Louis' parochial school, which is under the direction of the Sisters of the Assumption, were held last evening in the parish hall in Beaulieu street. The attendance was large and all present highly appreciated the elaborate program which was presented by the pupils of the school. In attendance at the exercises were Rev. J. R. Labossiere, pastor; Rev. F. X. Gauthier, Rev. E. J. Vincent and Rev. D. Boisvert, as well as all the members of the teaching staff of the school.

The diplomas and other awards were presented by the pastor, who delivered a brief address, complimenting the pupils and teachers for the excellent results obtained during the year and he closed by giving advice to the graduates. The valedictory address was delivered by Miss Gabrielle Laplante, while the salutatorian was Miss Claire Bouthillier.

The graduates in the academic course were Anne Marie Alexander, Annette Bernier, Emma Bernier, Alice Bouchard, Claire Bouthillier, Agnes Callary, Laura Decelle, Mary Dery, Emily Emond, Ida Forrest, Cecile Fortin, Noella Koute, Gabrielle Laplante, Charlotte Poirier, Helene Poirier and Laura St. Pierre.

The grammar graduates were Cora

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Merrimack Still Rising in Lawrence

LAWRENCE, June 23.—The Merrimack river at the dam rose from 41.18 feet to 41.59 feet between 8 o'clock yesterday morning and the same time this morning and is still rising, according to officials of the Essex Co. During the same period the water at the lower locks rose from 15.08 feet to 17.28 feet. There are still many feet leeway before there is danger of any damage. The Spicket river which flows from Island Pond, N. H., and empties into the Merrimack river in this city, is also very high.

Explosion Near Public Library

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 23.—National guard officers and the local police are investigating an explosion which occurred just behind the public library in Crompton village, last night, which shook the mill of the Crompton Co., nearby. The mill has been tied up by the Rhode Island textile strike for about five months. The detonation tore a hole in the ground about eight inches deep, 12 feet from the library building. No explanation of the explosion has yet been given by the authorities.

since no one remained to work in the strip pit that of itself was a guarantee against further outbreaks and ascertained the 1000 members of the Illinois National Guard ordered to mobilize in Chicago for possible duty here, were unnecessary.

An inquest into the carnage was set for today. The slaughter was wrought by miners and supporters, when drunk with moonshine whiskey and angered at the efforts of the strip pit workers who had been termed in a telegram from the mine workers' international chief "common strike breakers" they hore down at dawn on the huddled group. Until late last night, no official step to investigate the affair had been taken, no grand jury had been summoned and no arrest had been made.

Veritable Roman Holiday

Miners in Merrin streets openly boasted that they participated in the infliction of death by gunfire, hanging and dragging through the streets in a veritable Roman holiday, but there was no action against them.

That the death list would be increased today, seemed to be agreed. Fifteen bodies were weighed about the necks and cast into a pond, a miner told a correspondent for The Associated Press, and the men who killed them were scattered in all directions.

The dead at first were reported accounted for in a pitched battle between the strikers and sympathizers and the imported pit strippers when the legal militia attacked the harridan workers at dawn.

Cruelly Massacred

Later, however, open statements from scores of persons on the streets here were that the workmen were murdered at the first onslaught and, after having been tied into groups of three and six, were cruelly massacred. They were ordered to run a gauntlet of rifle fire, only to be shot to death at instances of a few feet when wounded, one or two of a group fell and dragged others down to death with knives, beaten with clubs and at least three of them hanged, while six men were said to have been dragged over a rough rock road behind an automobile.

Women Urged Men On

The women, some carrying infants, urged the men on, and in at least one instance, the Associated Press correspondent observed almost unbelievable cruelty from a woman. He came across a group lying in the road, one of the men badly mauled and his shoulder shot away. Begging for water, and evidently near death, the worker was only jeered at by the men and women about. The correspondent dashed into a house and obtained water, but was restrained by men who pointed pistols. A moment later, a woman carrying a baby spurned the dying man with her foot and told him she would "see him in hell" before he could drink.

Death Toll May Never Be Known

In the wounded list there were 15 in the Merrin hospital, three reported in the Carbondale hospital and a number of other—union striking miners—believed to be lying in their homes.

There was little question that the exact number of dead never will be known. No one seemed inclined to drag the pond where bodies were reported thrown and no searching parties have been organized to seek bodies in the woods.

Shot Down in Cold Blood

All reports, whether from miners or from strike breakers, or mine operators agreed that the killings really were a massacre—that the victims were shot down in cold blood after they had put up the white flag and surrendered themselves and their arms to the attacking forces. Many persons in the county uphold the slaying as a rightful act of judgment. Citizens gathering on street corners last night and today laughed and joked over the affair and proudly boasted that "some of these days people will realize that it doesn't pay to try to break a strike in Williamson county."

In the morgue, women and children, as they passed through, commented on the accuracy of the shooters who brought down these victims.

Openly Boast of Murders

Men who openly boast that they were in the attacking force related with apparent pride the stories of what in war times would be called brutality. The story of the attack on C. K. McDowell strike breakers superintendent was related by many. McDowell, with only one leg, was beaten to death with stones before being riddled with bullets, according to persons who say they were eye-witnesses.

He refused to march with the other prisoners who were tied together and told to run down the road between lines of attackers who poured buckshot, rifle and pistol bullets into them as they fled, saying that he'd just as soon die where he was. He died where he was.

The mine safe was looted and one man, with some $1500 in bills, stood with a semi-circle of men around him and dealt out the bills like cards, according to wounded men who were there.

Dying Men Kicked Around

The correspondent saw men wounded almost to death, kicked around in the scorching sun in dusty roads. He saw men chased through fields like rabbits. Surrounded by armed men, he saw a knife plunged into the throat of a wounded man who in his dying breath gasped a plea: "In the name of my mother, in the name of your mother, in the name of our God, give me water," only to receive laughs and jibes such as:

"Where you're going you won't see water," as a reply.

Mothers carried babies into the morgue and up to piles of bodies in the roads with such remarks as: "Take a look at what your papa did, kid." He watched a man walk to the bedside of a dying man and curse him and jeer at him as he breathed his last.

Not a Word of Sympathy

Through it all, although the fight area was traversed a dozen times, there was not a word heard of sympathy for a victim. The sentiment seemed to be that strike breakers deserved slaughter and that these had received it.

Few of the dead could be positively identified. Most of them had been rifled of all effects. After lying piled in the morgues yesterday, they were embalmed last night. Scores watched the processes all through the night making unprintable remarks about the bodies.

That day would bring official action of some kind was undoubtedly. That this action would bring little in the way of results was the prediction of most everyone in touch with the situation.

Says Police Would Root Soldiers

The order of Governor Small last night to hold 1000 men of the militia in readiness in Chicago was greeted on the streets here with sarcasms. A member of the police force told the correspondent that the police force told the correspondent if troops were sent here he'd "take the night police force and clean them out." Inquiry developed that he himself was the night police force.

The request of the governor for an official report brought more sarcasm, the gist of which seemed to be that there was nothing to report officially.

Official Statements Scarce

Official statements were scarce. Everyone talked of the fight and many freely related their own experiences. Yet none ever knew of it—officially. The killed simply "dropped dead." It was explained when official statements were asked. No one was murdered, it was said—officially. It was remarked that there had been 27 other killings here since Jan. 1.

Plans to Burn Mines

Early today several newspapermen were privately informed that plans were afoot to burn a number of mines which in previous years had labor troubles. The correspondents were told to go to a certain mine at 5 o'clock this morning and they would see what was termed "a party." Many automobiles carrying men passed in the direction of the mine named, but there was no fire and no trouble.

Leaves Mine a Heap of Ashes

All that remains of the Lester mine is a heap of ashes, for it was set on fire shortly after the attackers captured it. Mr. Lester, the owner, was and is in constant touch with every field tured it. Mr. Lester, the owner, was reported to have come here from Chicago, but no one had been able to find him early today.

ago, but no one had been able to find him early today.

Early today Sheriff Thaxton told newspapermen that the situation was well in hand and there was no danger. That was the only official statement in the early hours of the day.

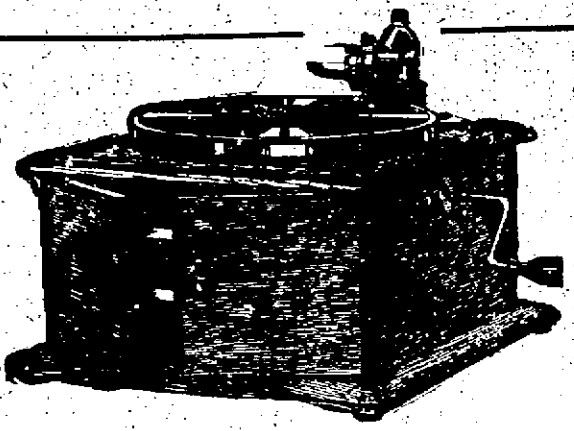

Union Officials Accused

MUSKOGEE, Okla., June 23.—Blame for the Merrin coal field killings rests largely upon miners' union officials in Illinois. John Wilkinson, president of District No. 31, United Mine Workers of America, declared here today:

"Deploping the lawlessness and slaying Mr. Wilkinson said: 'Things like this do not happen overnight. They are the result of days and weeks of fermentation.'"

"Had the officers and board members of the Illinois district been in proper touch with their men through out the district they could have prevented this. The blame will rest largely upon the officials and board members of the Illinois miners."

"In our district even though scattered over thousands of miles, we manage to keep in constant touch with every field and no plots of this kind will ever occur."

Griffith Prepares To Hang New Stars in Cinema Heaven

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, June 22.—D. W. Griffith is preparing to hang more stars in the cinema heavens.
He has just completed the cast and is shooting opening scenes of his next picture, a comedy drama by Irene Sledge, with the working title of "At the Grange." It will be in seven reels.
D. W. will introduce a number of new faces to the silver screen. And Griffith has a way, like Cecil DeMille, of fashioning celebrities from nonentities. Richard Barthelmess, for instance, the cast of the new picture includes Carol Dempster, Porter Strong, Henry

Lake, Marie Prevost, Mary Thurnham, Bebe Daniels, Vera Stedman and Louise Fazenda.

One of the most refreshing comedies in many a moon is "Supply and Demand," first of a new series featuring Johnny Jones. This is one of those little whimsical affairs of the adolescent age.

A group of children band together to sell rat traps for which there is no demand. The devious ways in which they create a demand furnish a comedy that crowds all the youthful pranks of "Penrod" into two reels.

European Notes: "The Diva's Ruby" will be filmed in Italy. "The King of the Beggars," a serial that has proved a sensation in Paris, will be sent to the United States. "The Valley of Nubia" and "The White Desert" are being filmed in Germany, using wild animals of the Hagenbeck collection. Constance Binney will make a personal appearance tour with "Orphans of the Storm" in England. "The Tragedy of Russia" is a six-reel film showing the fall of the czar and the rise of the Bolshevik government. Among the new German films are "The Round of Death," "The Princess of Tuscany," "The Empress Elizabeth," "The Murderous Governor" and "The Ascension of Henrich."

The Movie Chatterbox

Edward Burns will be Constance Talmadge's leading man in "East Is West."

Ramsey Wallace will play the lead in "The Gamin Girl," starring Alice Calhoun.

Alan Forrest plays opposite Shirley Mason in "The Jilted Teacher."

What next? Katherine MacDonald shows us first "The Woman's Side" and then "White Shoulders."

Colleen Moore's hint to vacationists: Don't leave all your best clothes behind—you may meet someone you'd like to dress up for.

Maurice Tourneur has completed the exterior for "The Christian" at Epsom Downs and the Isle of Man and is on his way to America to take the interior.

TO HEAR PROTEST FROM POST OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The recent action of the North Atlantic Intercoastal freight rate conference in ordering the Atlantic, Gulf & Pacific Steamship company to eliminate all ports of call, Providence, R. I., and New London, Conn., will be discussed at a meeting of the conference next Tuesday. The meeting has been called through the efforts of the Shipping board in response to complaints from the affected ports.

The conference action, it was explained by Shipping board officials, was taken on the ground that Providence and New London were not terminal ports, but had been granted terminal port rates instead of conference rates.

transfer order was directly due to information furnished the council that the prior revenue account of $172,000, actually has an unnumbered cash, only $54,512.46.

Each councilor on the committee last night received from City Auditor Daniel E. Martin a copy of a letter addressed to Mayor George H. Brown relative to several city accounts under discussion at the present time.

The letter brought out the fact that while the prior revenue balance as of June 20 was $172,556.55, departmental accounts receivable account for $118,164.49 of the total, leaving $54,512.46 in cash, as above stated.

Other information contained in the letter was relative to estimated revenue for 1922 as compared with the collections of estimated revenue up to June 20 in 1921. Last year during January, February, March, April, May and up to June 20, revenue was received amounting to $232,572.84, against receipts this year covering the same period of $223,349.93. From these figures it would appear that the estimated revenue receipts for this year already have fallen short $50,222.01.

Included in the departmental accounts receivable that go to make up the prior revenue balance of June 20, are taxes of 1915, 1919 and 1920, amounting to $91,054.09. Outstanding these outstanding taxes and held in reserve for abatements there are the following overlay accounts as of the same date: 1919, $15,202.26; 1920, $91,526.04; overlay surplus, $57,164.00.

The 1921 overlay account has been reduced to $5924.47 and there is still uncollected in the 1921 tax account, $31,961.70 and inasmuch as heavy abatements during 1921 greatly reduced the overlay account of that year, it is possible that the city will be called upon to replenish the 1921 overlay account before all the outstanding taxes are collected.

It is believed that last night's order marks the beginning and the end of additional appropriations for the year, although a number of departments that had made urgent requests for assistance have not been cared for. Only the most pressing cases were considered in view of the fact that the fountain of supply was running low.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., June 23.—Two men were killed, a deputy sheriff suffered a broken arm and a dozen other persons received minor injuries when a mob attacked an interurban traction car carrying non-union miners and officers of the Hudson Coal Co., guarded by deputy sheriffs, from this city to the Lewis mine near Reynoldsville, today. The mob stopped the car, pulled off the trolley and swarmed aboard. Two of the attacking party were shot as they crawled through windows. The mine was opened on an open shop basis Monday.

LABRADOR FISHING FLEET DWINDLING

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., June 23.—The Labrador fishing fleet, operating from this port is rapidly dwindling away, according to a summary prepared by Newfoundland trade interests. There has been a falling off of 121 vessels in 10 years, according to this report.

"Last year the total number of schooners surveyed and given clearances for Labrador was 579," the report says. "The present season there will be a further falling off, which is estimated to bring the total down to about 500—just about half what it was in 1910."

"This is a serious state of affairs and bores ill for the Labrador fishery of the future, seeing that there are so few new schooners built each winter in recent years to replace the 30 to 50 that are lost every year, while more become so old and unseaworthy that they must be condemned. Were it not for the shore crews or skippers that go down in the summers and freight the Labrador fishery would be today a small fraction of what it was a quarter of a century ago."

STATLER COMPANY WINS HOTEL SITE

BOSTON, June 23.—The Statler Hotel company wins the controversy with the Preferred Underwriters over the Park square site for the new hotel. Judge Carroll of the supreme judicial court yesterday dismissed the bill brought by the Preferred Underwriters, Inc., to enjoin the New Haven railroad from selling the land to the Statler people.

The Preferred Underwriters, Inc., had an option on the land in Park square and paid a considerable sum of money under it, but failed to exercise its rights within a reasonable time. The hotel to be erected by these interests was to have been under the management of Hiram Ricker, of Poland, Maine.

PAUL KITTREDGE COUNCIL.
There will be a meeting of the Paul Kittredge council at Y.M.C.A. hall this evening at 8 o'clock, when the council will probably discuss whether it will hold any more meetings. The books of the fund drive will be given out to the members.

ST. PETER'S ORPHANAGE TO HAVE OUTINGS

St. Peter's Orphan association, an organization of men interested in St. Peter's orphanage, met last evening at St. Margaret's rectory and elected officers for the ensuing year. John Dwyer of Waverly avenue, was chosen president, Charles W. Holmes, secretary, and Rev. Charles J. Galligan, treasurer.

The association has planned to give the children an outing at Canobie lake on August 10. Those who are interested in the orphanage usually contribute a sufficient number of automobiles to convey all the children to the picnic grounds. It is also planned to give the ten sisters, who are in charge of the orphanage, a day's outing at Pemberton in Boston harbor on July 20.

Land for Stadium

appointed by the chair for the purpose of conducting a drive for $40,000. This committee will be made public by Chairman Harris within a few days.

In order to claim title to the Spaulding park property, a resolution was adopted that the sum of $500 be raised immediately. This allotment was subsequently raised by the members present at the meeting.

The set of recommendations, compiled by the members of the committee on a permanent athletic field, and which led to the proposed acquisition of the Cawley property, were read by the chairman as follows:

1.—That the Lowell High School Alumni association acquire a permanent athletic field for a stadium for the Lowell high school.
2.—That the land known as Spaulding park, located on Rogers street, be purchased by the alumni for a stadium for the Lowell high school.
3.—That the Lowell High School Alumni association also acquire the land owned by the Cawley heirs on the northerly side of said Spaulding park containing 2287 acres, and a strip of land on the westerly side of Spaulding park.

4.—That the management of said stadium be in charge of a committee of five consisting of the principal of the Lowell high school, one of the teachers of the Lowell high school to be elected by the members of the Lowell High School Alumni association, and three of the alumni to be elected by the members of the Lowell High School Alumni association.
5.—That a committee of five be appointed from each of the classes, to prepare a card index of the members of the various classes and to solicit funds for the purchase and maintenance of the stadium for the Lowell high school.

Call For Suggestions
Before accepting the recommendations, a discussion was called for, in order that the sentiments of the members might be voiced on the matter and possible suggestions offered. Chairman Silverblatt outlined at length the features to be connected with the proposed stadium in the form of modern dressing rooms, showers, lockers and other conveniences. In answer to a question concerning a first street stadium, the chairman explained that such a stadium would not meet the requirements of the high school because that site could not be

WHAT TO WEAR IN HOT WEATHER

In those not distant days when the mercury is going to slide suavely up over 90 degrees, leaving you gasping for breath and wondering why you ever thought you liked summer, then the problem of what to wear will confront you.

Calico is one of the old-fashioned materials recently come back to favor, which you may choose for hot weather dresses.

Quaint patterns in colors or black on black grounds of gray or black or blue remind one of grandmother's frocks of 50 years ago.

Figured batiste—white sprinkled with rosebuds of pale pink or blue—is also shown.

Following several incidental remarks by other members present, it was unanimously voted, on a motion by William Cantor that $40,000 be named as the quota for the drive.

The alumni association, an incorporated body, was authorized, on a motion by General Pearson, to claim title to the proposed site by raising the sum of $500. The contributions were opened by a donation of $100 from Gen. Pearson, followed by Bennett Silverblatt with $100; Edward W. Trull, $100; Henry H. Harris, $50; Mrs. James H. Conway, $25; James P. Roane, $25; William Cantor, $25; William W. Donnell, $15; Miss Helen Lambert, $10; a friend, $50.

Memorial Committee
The Cyrus W. Irish memorial committee reported that the cataloging of the different classes was progressing satisfactorily, and Mr. Harris stated that 1000 envelopes will be addressed by the high school girls to the members of the various classes, in an effort to secure subscriptions to a fund, which will be used for the purchase of a portrait painting of Cyrus W. Irish. The amount requested is $1000. The committee is as follows: Frederick W. Coburn, Arthur L. Eno, Belle Dodge Horner, Miss Josephine M. Ockington and Lewis E. MacBryne.

Mr. Harris explained to the members that he had sent a request to the school board asking that the auditorium in the new high school be dedicated to Cyrus W. Irish, as a testimonial to his love for the school. As yet the command has not been recognized.

TAKES OVER PAVILION AT SALISBURY BEACH

The Sea View dancing pavilion at Salisbury beach has been acquired by Charles B. Bunker of this city, proprietor of the Casino, and made over to a roller skating rink. The new rink will be the very best in New England, according to Mr. Bunker. It is much larger than the Casino, and its location on the ocean front will allow its patrons to enjoy the cool sea breeze while enjoying one of the most pleasurable of pastimes. The new enterprise will be under the supervision of John Stanton, the well known dancing teacher, who will be assisted by a competent corps of skating instructors. About 500 pairs of skaters are now available for the grand opening tomorrow.

STRIKERS HOLD MASS. MEETING

Over 200 strikers of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. and Bay State Cotton Corp. attended a mass meeting in Trades & Labor hall yesterday afternoon. The gathering was addressed by Chairman John Hanley of the strike committee, who said that as far as he has been able to find out, very few of the strikers have deserted the ranks. He urged those who are fighting against the radical reduction of 20 per cent. to continue their battle, saying if they stick together they are bound to win out. At the close of Mr. Hanley's address a social hour was enjoyed during which entertainment numbers were given by some of the talent in the organization. Particularly pleasing were the numbers given by a quartet composed of young women. It was announced at strike headquarters today that a committee of this city has been formed for the purpose of raising funds for the needy strikers. This committee is now making arrangements for a dance which will be held in T.O.O.F. hall, Bridge street, next Friday evening.

GAVE RECEPTION TO FORMER PRINCIPAL

An informal reception was given on Tuesday by the teachers of the Wood street school to the first principal of that school, Mary McGovern, now Mrs. Charles Hart of Santa Monica, Calif. Mrs. Hart, who is here on a visit after an absence of 17 years, was the recipient of many hearty greetings from former co-workers and pupils. It was a delightful "listening in" party to the call of the Pacific, with the pleasing finale that nature's grandest beauty may be seen here in Lowell, in the first snowfall.

LIGHTNING STRIKES ENGINE HOUSE

The telephone and fire alarm systems at the quarters of Engine 6 in Fletcher street were put out of order early last evening when a lightning bolt struck the wires and entered the tower of the brick building. The glass in the two windows of the tower was shattered, but no other damage was caused, and although the men in the station were shaken up some by the crash, no one was injured. Repair gangs from the fire department and telephone company were soon on the scene and a half-hour later after the crash both systems had been restored.

15 Arrested in London Raids

Assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, constituted one of the most damaging demonstrations against the government that it has experienced, according to opinion in the lobby. The view was expressed that had it been possible to debate the subject, the existence of the government would have been seriously in question. Debate has been postponed until Monday, and government supporters expect that opinion will be less influenced by Chamberlain, the government leader, is said to be there, who were near him as he was questioned, to have grown pale under the fire of interrogation. A bad impression was created by his statement that police protection had been withdrawn from the cabinet ministers and other prominent men.

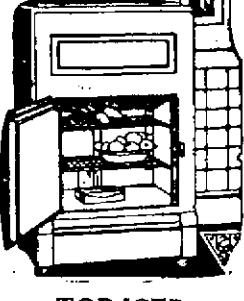

LONDON, June 23.—(By the Associated Press) Fifteen men and one woman were arrested in the raids throughout London last night in connection with the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson. It was announced in the house of commons today by Austen Chamberlain, the government leader. He stated that every step possible was being taken for the protection of life in Ireland and England and intimated that a discussion of Irish affairs would be held on Monday. Prime Minister Lloyd George, he stated was now holding a conference on all the matters connected with the assassination of Marshal Wilson. James O'Brien and James Connolly, who were arrested directly after the shooting, were arraigned in the Westminster police court and charged with murder. They were remanded for one week by Magistrate Cecil Chapman. The accused men were taken to the court soon under strong guard from the Gardai road police station. In the courtroom, there were a number of plain clothes officers who have been engaged in the last year in dealing with the Sinn Fein outrages in London. The prisoners were charged with the murder of Field Marshal Wilson and the attempted murder of Constables March and Sayer, and Alexander Clark, a chauffeur. Lloyd George Absent There was an unusually large attendance in the house of commons today in expectation of further developments in connection with the Wilson assassination. The absence of Premier Lloyd George caused some complaint, but Austen Chamberlain, the government leader, explained that the pre-

THE MINE HORROR

So conflicting are the reports from the scene of the mine horror at Florin, Ill., in which over forty men were killed in a riot, that it is difficult to apportion the blame but enough is known to indicate a cruel massacre by the striking miners. The occurrence is one of the most revolting recorded in this country for many years. The leader of the miners says that the coal company involved broke its agreement with the miners by starting to ship coal and that the armed guards with a machine gun mounted at the front of the mine, intimidated the strikers. The fact seems to be that the mine owners imported strikebreakers and armed guards from Chicago and the miners on realizing the situation, came together in a force of about 5,000 and stormed the mine with bullets until the white flag was hoisted. Then the besieged men were captured, but instead of being treated as prisoners, most of them were tied together and either shot or subjected to a more cruel death. Before leaving the premises the mine was fired. Only a thorough investigation will clear up the tragedy, which can be regarded as little short of an uprising against all authority.

The right of mine owners to operate their plants with non-union labor if they so desire and equally the right of non-union men to earn a living outside the unions, are both attacked in this riot; but as these are fundamental rights guaranteed by the constitution of this republic, they cannot be overruled or abolished by mob violence.

The federal government should have taken a hand in the settlement of the miners' strike long ago and, as appears, the state authorities are disposed to leave the operators and the miners to fight it out. But the state authorities will move now; but they cannot restore the dead to life. The whole affair is one of cruel and indefensible horror.

THE TARIFF FIGHT

On the political horizon the clouds begin to lower for the republican party in the fall elections. Nobody is better aware of this fact than President Harding and hence he is pressing congress to push the tariff bill to enactment as soon as possible. From all sides comes ample evidence that the bill is one of the most imperfect and in some respects the most dangerous ever proposed. Nobody disputes the need of a protective tariff sufficient to cover the difference between the cost of production here and in foreign countries; but when the tariff in some cases equals from five to ten times that of the provisions is obvious. The democratic leaders have opposed the more unjust features of the bill; but in most cases their protests have been overborne by the republican majority. The republican party is resorting to the old Mark Hanna method of paying political debts by a high tariff, and it is also planning to hold itself in power by the support of corporate interests which will be given monopolistic sway by the new tariff.

It is true that the industries of the old world are in a very disorganized condition and that prices are higher in most countries than ever before. The tariff duties are to be fixed in the new law while present tendencies indicate that values are yet far from being stabilized. But for better or worse, the tariff bill must be passed. The republican leaders are determined to pass the measure before adjournment and none is more insistent upon doing so than Senator Lodge. After that will come the fight over the bonus and on this question the republicans are badly divided. President Harding is opposed to this plan proposed; but he is nevertheless pledged to pass a bonus measure. He wants the Ship Subsidy bill in preference to the bonus and it is not improbable, therefore, that he will vote the bonus bill if sent to him before the Ship Subsidy measure.

THE REHABILITATED

Of the 5,000 disabled ex-service men attending leading educational institutions in New England under the supervision of the United States Veterans' bureau, more than 200 were graduated with honors this week, according to an announcement made by Dr. Arthur D. Bridges, district manager of the veterans' bureau.

The work performed for a certain number of disabled ex-service men at the Lowell Textile school has been highly praised in official circles this year. The local institution was among the very first to take up the work of helping these war veterans, handicapped by wounds received in service across the sea. Many ex-soldier graduates this year are from schools of accounting, business administration, mechanical draughtsmanship, steam-fitting, electric engineering, and from Harvard, "Tech" and other first-class institutions.

It is fitting that the Lowell Textile school should have been included in this work of enabling service men to qualify for technical trades in which they will be able to earn a respectable living.

This is a work that should continue indefinitely, and we are glad to see the Lowell Textile school among the institutions that are performing an important part in rehabilitating service men so as to enable them to fill remunerative positions instead of becoming dependents on public charity. Some of them will enter callings to which they could never aspire but for the aid thus extended them.

THE LONDON TRAGEDY

It is alleged, the assassination of Sir Henry Hughes Wilson was the result of political intrigue in which Irish influences were involved, it was a grievous mistake. It will be remembered that the assassination of

A Thought

Could we judge all deeds by motives? That would be a great relief. See the naked heart and soul. Know what spur the action gives. Often we should find it better. Purer than we judge we should; We should love each other better. If we only understood.

In Terms He Understood

An old sea captain was reproving his daughter for being out late in an automobile with that "lubber," as he called her beau. "But, father, we were beamed," she exclaimed. "You see, the wind died down in one of the trees and we had to wait until it sprang up again."—Montreal Gazette.

Lots of Time Yet

"Well, Harry," remarked Uncle cheerfully, as he came upon the small boy of the house busy in the front room, "good boy this morning. I hope?" Harry regarded the clock and perceived it was just 11:30. "I don't know, Uncle," he said doubtfully. "There's half an hour more."—American Legion Weekly.

The Wisest Man

"Who is the wisest man mentioned in the Scriptures?" asked a teacher of one of Sunday school classes. "Paul," exclaimed the little fellow, confidently. "Oh, no, Johnny. Paul was a very good man, but Solomon is mentioned as the wisest man." "Well, my father says Paul was the wisest man, because he never married, and I think my father ought to know," replied the boy emphatically. —Los Angeles Times.

Today's Word

Today's word is moron. It has not yet been long enough in use to appear in the dictionary, but usually is pronounced more-on, with the two syllables almost equally accented. It means a man or a woman who is mentally deficient, but above the mental grade of an idiot; an adult with a child's mind; a person, physically mature, whose mental growth stopped at the age—generally so placed—of 8 to 12. It comes from Greek "moros," foolish, stupid, like the "A" moron, mentioned is a danger to society, but with proper training, he may become a contented and useful laborer.

Changing Views

A boy's estimate of his parents shifts as the years go by. Up to five or six years of age, he thinks them the best of men on earth. He quotes their sayings and considers their opinions final with the preference given to the maternal wisdom. By the time he is old enough to take his bath alone he thinks over the matter and decides that mother isn't so smart as he thought at first, but father knows a good many things and clings to himself their respective opinions on swimming, fishing, and going to the barber vs. maternal hair-clipping. About the time he sneaks dad's razor to his own room and experiments a little, the little fellow's opinion changes. He concludes father is a well-meaning dunder enough, but mother knows less than nothing. Five years later he pities the ignorance of the whole world, and especially that of the old folks. At thirty, about the time he wants to get rid of money from some of his financial mistakes he thinks father's and mother's advice is pretty good sometimes. Ten or fifteen years later when he has a lad or two of his own, the old boy begins to wonder why he never appreciated the old folks. At this point his parents are dead, but he idealizes them as the greatest characters of their age and spends hours telling his children how implicitly he always heeded and obeyed the slightest wish or command of his parents and how he ever and always took their advice in the crises of life.—Farm Life.

Avant the Fly

If there is a baby in your home, says Dr. R. H. Bishop, keep constant vigil against flies. Any fly may carry the germs of infantile paralysis. True, the cases in which flies have been proved to be carriers of the disease are few. Still, no risks should be run. Generally infantile paralysis passes directly from the neck to the well person, yet it may be transmitted by a third, who has been in contact with a victim. The early symptoms, as a rule, are fever, weakness, stiffness of the limbs and vomiting. Later there is pain in the back, neck, arms or legs, accompanied by great weakness. Often paralysis does not result; these are known as abortive cases. They, however, are as infectious as the others. If paralysis is to occur it usually appears from the neck to the limbs. The germ or tiny virus of the disease is present in the discharges from the nose, throat and bowels of patients. It may also be present in the noses and throats of healthy children in the same family. Thus it is necessary to keep the children from a few flies in which there is a case of infantile paralysis away from other children. All cases of infantile paralysis must be reported to the local department of health, which then placards the house. During an infantile paralysis epidemic it is well to close curtains and windows. The house or apartment should be kept absolutely clean. Windows should be screened against flies. Garbage should not be allowed to accumulate; its receptacle should be kept tightly covered. All forms of vermin should be killed. Bedlinen, especially especially linens, should be changed frequently. The heat provokes flies of infantile paralysis is not potent medicine but absolute cleanliness and a strict observance of those few important rules of hygiene.

"Old Dobbin"

Under the apple trees' faint scented blossoms, Dobbin is taking his long quiet rest. Dear patient horse with his work all completed. Slept still by the friends he loved best.

Out on the highway the autos are speeding. Filling the air with their noise and their glare. But never a sound will awaken old Dobbin.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

I always loved cattle and a few days ago I feasted my eyes on some of the prettiest cows I have ever seen. It was the Duncraggan farm in Westford and I think I will never tire telling of the beauty of the Duncraggan Ayreshires. I was invited to the farm by a friend who is also a great lover of beautiful cows and we were very cordially received by the proprietor of Duncraggan, Mr. George F. White. The cleanliness of the cows and the stable appealed to me and I was very much impressed with the great care that is taken of the milk. Mr. White told us that the herd is under federal control for the eradication of tuberculosis and has passed two successful tests showing no sign of the disease. A supervisor from the state agricultural college spends at least two days each month at the farm, testing the milk for the proportions of butter fat. Mr. White also stated that the milk will soon be certified under the state laws and delivered under the seal of a competent medical milk commission. I thought of the cows and barns at the old home and marveled at the improvements that have been made. The barns at the Duncraggan farm have plaster walls and ceilings, concrete floors, mangers and gutters and individual automatic drinking bowls. Pens and stalls are of steel, and the cows stand on a carpet of cork. A complete ventilating system furnishes an abundance of fresh air at all times. The cows are kept clean, exercised in the open air in suitable weather, and fed ground and fed uniform rations. I am going to make special mention of one of the cows, Bride's Princess, the handsomest and proudest appearing cow I have ever seen. Mr. White had one of his men lead her out so that we might have a good look at her in the open air. She carried herself with such grace and really knew that she was being paraded before visitors. Bride's Princess was last prize and grand champion at Connecticut state fair in 1921. First at Waltham, Middlesex county fair the same year, and last prize and reserve grand champion at Springfield, East. The owner of the cow, Mrs. J. Corcoran, was pronounced by the judge to have the most beautiful cow's face he had ever seen. If you happen in Westford drop in at Duncraggan farm and see Bride's Princess. You will see other prize winners, too, including bulls that demand top notch prices. The owner of the farm is the proprietor of White's garage, 660 Middlesex street, this city.

From Norwalk, Conn., a thriving little city of something over 30,000 inhabitants, comes the news that a local man, Mr. J. Corcoran, is meeting with marked success in the capacity of advertising manager for the Boston store, one of the city's largest business enterprises. Mr. Corcoran accepted the position a short time ago, and since assuming his new duties has made great progress. The Norwalk man, who is a native of this city, has the following to say relative to Mr. Corcoran and his new activities: "The Boston store is starting on a new era of progress, many changes being made in the general layout of the different departments. The work is going on under the supervision of Mr. Corcoran, the advertising manager, and in conversation with an hour reporter, Mr. Corcoran stated that plans have been formulated to make the Boston store the most attractive shopping center in this vicinity." Mr. Corcoran, in his home city, has been connected with the advertising departments of the Bon Marche and Saunders' market, and has done a thriving business in sign painting and show card writing on his own account. He is the son of Mrs. Ross A. Corcoran of 614 Bridge street.

BIG DROP IN PRICE OF AUTOMOBILES

"How much am I offered for this beautiful, self-starting, self-upholstered, guaranteed to stand without hitching auto, men?" yelled Auctioneer O. H. Hanson yesterday as he waved his majestic mallet about in the clouds. "Remember, men, she is as sound as a dollar, will stand without hitching, hasn't a speck on her, has been fast and blistered and a lady can drive her as well as a man."

"Thirty-six dollars," quoted a feeble voice from the fringe of the small group of Rock street auto magnates. "Say, this ain't no joke. It's a real deal in the whole auto. It's got three on it and a horn. Hear it blow!" And with that remark, the auctioneer gave the horn a rasping toot.

"Thirty-six dollars, I repeat," came the same voice, now more confident for the lack of competition.

"Tim bid says thirty-six-fifty do I hear, thirty-six-fifty, do I hear, go! Go! Going, going, gone; and sold to the gentleman with the linen duster and goggles."

And thus the ownership of a trusty, rusty gas buggy was transferred from a once proud owner to a much prouder one.

CHURCH BASEMENT BEING REMODELLED

The basement of St. Margaret's church in Stevens street is being remodelled to be used for religious purposes. In the past it has been used only as a hall for committee and other meetings connected with parish work. It will be completed in the fall. St. Margaret's parish just at present is actively engaged in planning the success of its lower party to be held at the Casino next Thursday. Rev. R. Brennan has charge and Dr. Frank Brady is general manager. The arrangements already forecast a very successful event.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

SUNDAY AT THE STRAND

The biggest vaudeville program ever offered the patrons of the Strand is assured for Sunday. Manager Samuel Torgan has secured, at considerable extra expense, a series of stars that will surely provide the highest grade of entertainment given a local public in many months. Bozo Snyder and Sam Greene, comedians now at the City theatre, Boston, will head the list, and the others will include Althea Barnes, prima donna at the same theatre; Dave Stanley, Alexander & Elmore and others, who will make up a vaudeville menu that will surpass anything of the kind shown at this theatre in seasons. The play of the week, all new, will have Pauline Frederick in "The Mistress of Shenstone," as the leader. Patrons are reminded of the fact that the Strand is the coolest, most comfortable and most healthful theatre in this community. Just watch the standard of entertainment at Lowell's biggest theatre advance—a standard that will meet with the enthusiastic approval of all theatregoers.

THE STRAND

Tom Mix in new tricks is being started at The Strand for the week-end. "Chasing the Moon" is his new screen creation and it contains the usual generous amount of stunts and thrills. Gladys Walton in "Second"

THE WISE VIRGIN

"Be good, my child, and let who will be clever," Charles Kingsley said that mouthful of advice; But I'd suggest it does no harm whatever To be both good and clever. To be nice A lady doesn't have to be a dumbell. Her brains won't hurt her any with a man, "Be good, my child—but do not be a mum belle, You ought to be as clever as you can."

"Fine feathers," so the moralists may warn you "Don't make fine birds." And that's no idle word, But feathers that are fine won't make folks scorn you If you are, otherwise, a noble bird! Clothes do not make the man or yet the woman, But they are mostly what the world will scan, And—knowing human nature's very human—The wise dame dresses smartly as she can!

"Beauty is hut skin deep," the preachers tell you, And "Handsome is, as handsome does," they say; But just the same, wherever you may dwell, you Will learn that beauty isn't in the way. You will not find that it's a waste endeavor To make yourself a pleasant sight to soon, "Be good, my child"—and be as well-dressed, clever, And just about as pretty as you can!

CROWN THEATRE

Pearl White, the celebrated Fox star who bears the label "best known film actress in the world"—is at the Crown theatre today and for a two days' run in her latest picture, entitled "Any Wife." The film was directed by Herbert Brenon, who stands in the very front rank in his field. The story of "Any Wife" was written by Julia Tolson. It deals with the case of a woman possessed of a devoted husband and a loving child, and surrounded by every material comfort; yet who surrenders to the spirit of discontent because she feels her life is too humdrum, lacking in social spice. This spirit, ever-increasing, leads her into an unfortunate situation of a result of which her husband casts her off, though she is really innocent. Despite this apparent tragedy, the story has a singularly happy ending which comes as an absolute surprise.

MANY SEEK GLAND TRANSPLANTATION

CHICAGO, June 22.—One immediate result of the eugenic gland transplantation to which Harold F. McCormick submitted, and the wide publicity given his case, has been numerous applications from wealthy men, whose vitality is waning, and who desire rejuvenation, and from obese women, wealthy dowagers, who fear the loss of social position, because of their increasing avoirdupois.

Inquiries from women passed middle age, has been as eager and as numerous as those from men. Surgeons say it is possible to rejuvenate these women, but the operation is far more complicated than for men, and was not attended with the same success.

It was said yesterday that since operating on Mr. McCormick, Dr. Victor LePine has performed similar operations on at least six other men, all of them wealthy and prominent, but in these, he and his patients have been able to keep the operations secret.

"TIZ" GLADDENS SORE, TIRED FEET

"TIZ" makes sore, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callouses, blisters and bunions.

"TIZ" draws out the acids and poisons that put up your feet. No matter how hard you work, how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "TIZ" brings restful foot comfort. "TIZ" is wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Your feet just tingle for joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight. Get a box of "TIZ" now from any druggist or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy.—Adv.

OBSERVE FEAST OF SACRED HEART

Special masses were celebrated in all the Catholic churches this morning in honor of the Feast of the Sacred Heart. Appropriate services this evening will usher out the feast day. Confessions were heard in the afternoon and evening yesterday and resulted in a large number of communicants this morning. A 40 hours' devotion, opened this morning at the Church of the Sacred Heart and will close with a solemn high mass at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

On the second evening of the triduum at St. Columba's church, public adoration of the Blessed Sacrament was carried out last night from 7 to 9 o'clock. The observance will be brought to a close this evening, when, following a solemn procession and the crowning of the statue of the Sacred Heart by the children of the parish, a sermon and benediction will take place. The public consecration of the parish to the Sacred Heart will occur during the benediction. Recitation of the rosary, sermon and benediction will feature the evening services in other churches.

PIANO RECITAL IN COLONIAL HALL

A large and appreciative audience listened to the annual piano recital given in Colonial hall last night by the pupils of Miss Anna F. Scannell. Miss Louise Dunne assisted by reading several selections. Those who took part included: Goldie and Ruth Perkins, Francis Wilson, Pearl Brayman, Eva Fine, Mary Dorney, Minnie Gerson, Eleanor Comer, Marie Fliton, Margaret Dorney, Ruth Bass, Esther Morrison, Bessie Levine, Sarah and Elizabeth Solomon, Helen O'Leary, Helen Cunningham, Mildred Webb, Lillian Bean, Diana Chiodo, Ethel O'Brien, Lena Pinder, Kathleen Wilson, Walter Sargent and Harold Bass.

PROMOTIONS MADE IN BATTERY B

As the result of schooling non-commissioned officers of headquarters detachment, connected with Battery B, received at Camp Devens this past week several promotions have been announced. Sergt. Ralls has been promoted to sergeant-major to fill the rank made vacant by Sergeant-Major Petersen, who has been given an honorable discharge. Corporals Finerman and Rouse have been elevated to sergeants and First Class Privates Draper and Harris to corporals.

The last outdoor mounted drill will be held Sunday, as after the Fourth of July the horses will be sent to the summer camp at Barnstable. The headquarters detachment is planning to take a trip to West Chelmsford with Capt. Panof's outfit, the Combat train.

The payroll has nearly been completed and will arrive here some time next month. The men will be paid in quarterly installments instead of in semi-annual ones as in the past.

"ROOSEVELT CHAIR" DAMAGED BY FIRE

NEW YORK, June 22.—The chair reserved during his life for the late Theodore Roosevelt in the famous Little Hungarian restaurant in East Houston street, was damaged by fire in what formerly was the wine sub-cellar of the establishment early yesterday morning.

Col. Roosevelt was a frequent patron of the place when he was in New York, and while he was New York's police commissioner he dined there regularly at mid-day, and often dined there in the evening. He was accustomed to sit in a certain conspicuous place, and regularly occupied the same chair. When he became president the "Roosevelt chair" became famous in New York restaurant circles, and was carefully prized. He last sat in the chair in 1916. Since his death it has been kept, carefully wrapped in the one-time wine cellar, except for one occasion, when Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt occupied it at a business men's dinner about six weeks ago.

LOWELL MECHANIC PITLANX A general good time is in store for the members of Lowell Mechanic Pitlanx, which will be held at the camp of the organization Sunday. A brief business meeting will be held and then dinner will be served. The remainder of the day will be taken up with sports of all kinds. The members are to meet at the state armory in Westford street at 8 o'clock to board automobiles, which will convey them to the camp.

HELD CONFERENCE IN MILFORD, N. H.

Delegates from 15 cities and towns in this state and New Hampshire gathered at Milford, N. H., yesterday for a meeting of the North Middlesex conference which was held with the First Unitarian society. Thomas H. Elliott of this city, president of the conference, was the presiding officer. Shortly before the close of the afternoon business session an invitation was read and accepted to hold the next conference meeting in Tyngsboro. The program dealt almost entirely with business with short discussions of methods for promoting denominational efficiency. The morning session was given over to discussion of sermons and the participation of the young people of the different churches in the church activities.

At the close of the morning session luncheon was served in the Grand Army building by the women of the Milford church. The afternoon session was taken up with the discussion of financial problems.

ARE SUMMONED TO APPEAR IN COURT

Deputy Sheriff George H. Stevens was at city hall last night to serve papers on the mayor and members of the city council, summoning them to appear before the supreme judicial court on July 11, to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not issue, compelling them to recognize Albert J. Blazon as a member of the board of assessors. The writ petitioned for by Qua, Howard & Rogers, attorneys for Mr. Blazon, is returnable on that day.

STREET CAR STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

During the electrical storm of yesterday afternoon, an Eastern Massachusetts street car, operated by Joseph Moore, was struck by lightning as it was leaving Lakeview about 3 o'clock. Although the car was put out of commission, none of the passengers was injured.

RIBBON RUFFS Ruffs, made of ribbon and flowers, are a pleasant midsummer substitute for the summer fur. The most lovely ones are made of metal ribbon, pink or blue predominating. With flowers caught in between the loops. These are appropriate for only festive occasions.

SAVES HER CAT

When a hurricane hit City Island, N. Y., Helen Hess, 3, refused to leave her tottering home till she'd rescued her pet kitten.

THROUGH CARS RUNNING

Starting at 1:45 p. m. yesterday and continuing throughout the day, service along the full length of the Highlands route was resumed. The replacing of the old rails in Osgood street has been completed, with crushed stone forming a road bed beneath the ties. The large amount of filling which remains to be done will not in any way interfere with traffic by the street cars.

How to Play Baseball

Third Baseman's Position is Clearly Defined

BY BILLY EVANS
American League Umpire and Sporting
Editor of N.E.A. Service

Of all the infield positions, none is more clearly defined than that of third base. It is a position of great importance and one that is often the cause of much controversy.

There is no comparison between the territory a third baseman is supposed to cover and that of the shortstop or second baseman.

Most third basemen assume a position about 15 feet from third base, and about 10 feet back of a direct line that would be drawn from second to third. Balls are ordinarily hit so sharply at the third baseman that he cannot be expected to go very far either to his right or left.

Base Used Often

The third sacker, however, is constantly shifting within the rather narrow confines of his territory. One moment he is playing deep on some hard hitter. On the next batsman, perhaps, he is almost in the grass, ready to dash in and handle a bunt on some feet runner.

Within the last 15 years the bunt has become a great weapon on the defensive. If a player is only a fair hitter but is neat of foot, he immediately looks to the bunt as a medium to increase his value as a player. Some of the best bunters in the game are those who place-jumping as much as does the slugger attempt to perfect his swing.

A third baseman must always be up on his toes. He must shift his position to conform with the possibilities of the batter. Unlike some other positions, physique doesn't enter so much into the qualifications of this player. A third sacker may be either short, medium or tall.

Good Arm Necessary

A most important asset of a third baseman is a good throwing arm. The throw is usually a long one and very often must be hurried. Learning to throw underhand is also essential. It is a great aid in handling bunts, and getting the ball away quickly.

One of the hardest tasks that falls to the third baseman is touching the runner. Runners come into third base at all angles. A third baseman must adapt himself to conditions, shifting to beat the runner. He must constantly keep his eye on the ball yet from time to time from the corner of his eye, take a flash at the runner.

Centralville-Highland Daylight Contest Went But One Inning

George Tyler, former star port-sider and co-partner with Dick Rudolph and "Big Bill" James in the trip which brought the world's championship honors to the Braves in 1914, surprised hundreds of fans on the South common last night by appearing in the role of first baseman for the Centralville. For but one inning, however, was the former Beantown Idol allowed to back in the limelight, for old Duke Plavus, with his well-established prejudiced against twilight baseball, started on his innings ere the Foye gang and their opponents, the Highland Daylights, could complete theirs, and just as the last man was retired in the first stanza a genuine deluge drove players and spectators to cover and put an end to hostilities for the night.

It was some game as far as it went, the Centralville finishing in the lead by a pair of runs as compared to their rivals' solitary tally. If the game had been allowed to continue the two to one score would have been a fair figure. For both teams were out to kill the ball and something had to happen.

As it was, there was more action in the single inning than in many full games. McVey, lead-off man for the Centralville, tripped to center. "Lefty" Tyler took a good look at Shindler's warms and sent McVey home with a long three bagger to right. Ray Foye popped up to Greenwald on first, but when the latter failed to pick him up and sent it to the temporary bleachers in left center for the third triple of the inning, Tyler scored on the hit. Foye, however, was not so easy a victim, the former popping up to the catcher and the latter falling for Mulno's deceptive shenanigans.

HE HAS WON $203,430

By HOB DORMAN

NEW YORK, June 23.—In Exterminator's last race, whose game might well be envied by an

man. For this 7-year-old chestnut gelding, known as "The Horse," has won just goes out and does his best all ways. For this year he has won six out of seven starts, with the top weight always his portion. His best has brought him into seventh place on the roster of the world's great money-winning horses, with a total of $203,430.

His last shove Lemberg out of the seventh place and if he wins his next start he will take fourth place from the great French money winner, Sardanaapple.

Iron Horse

One Wayland, trainer of Exterminator, says:

"He's an iron horse. Added weight or a heavy track, conditions that hold other horses back, make no difference to him."

"He just seems to call on a secret reservoir of strength and does as well as the conditions were favorable."

"The one race he lost this year was but by a nose."

"He is unlike most thoroughbreds in that he is totally lacking in nerves."

Gentle

"He is as placid and kind as some little boy's pony, and like a pony he is always nosing in your pockets for sugar."

"He has won most of the important stakes of the country, among them the Kentucky derby, the Kentucky handicap, the Independence handicap and the Hartford handicap."

"We failed to get a race with Man-o-War."

"It is my ambition that a purse be hung up this fall for a race between him and the best three-year-old as declared in the London Special."

For one, which was a ragged affair, although there were several sensational gelding plays. After the

Crimson had gained a one run advance in the second, the Yale boys included a double and Chittenden, Arthur and Warren hit safely in this inning. There were two walks, a sacrifice and one man hit by a pitched ball. Gordon's triple, followed by Condon's double, gave Harvard its run in the ninth. Although Chittenden was batted hard, he kept the hits scattered. Score by Innings: 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 7 3 2

"ST. PATRICK'S TO FORE" YALE BEATS HARVARD IN FIRST GAME OF SERIES

Academy School Produces Leaders in All Branches of Sport—Praise for Brothers

During the past year much justly

dear praise has been given the Brothers of St. Patrick's for the quality of the athletic teams turned out among the youngsters of that institution. The shining example of ability was the crack Junior Holy Name basketball team that competed for the Junior championship of the city after a brilliant season on the floor where they piled up 24 victories and lost but once. This season, however, the team was defeated by

St. Anne's, which they afterward wiped out.

The almost perfect record of this outfit, though it somewhat detracted attention from their younger brothers, did not entirely take away the credit that was also due the other teams from the Academy. Many of the spectators at the St. Patrick's-St. Anne's game wondered at the playing of these younger boys that held forth on the present surface before the big game was called, and were loud in their praise of the work of the youngsters.

The team play, accurate shooting and coolness under fire shown by the younger teams afforded the fans an appetizer of rare qualities for the baseball team that followed. Games between the teams from the Academy usually resulted in close scores owing

Cobb's Tigers Win 11-Inning Battle From Browns—Red Sox Trim Yanks

NEW YORK, June 23.—Robinson's climbing Superbas with their pitching ace, Dutch Ruether, squeezed a 3-2 victory from the league-leading Giants.

It was Ruether's 12th victory of the season. The lowly Phillips bested the Braves 6-4. The defeat marked the first of the season for Pitcher Miller of the Braves. The Pirates, hitting heavily, trimmed the Cubs, 5-3. The Cardinals and Reds had an off day.

Cobb's Tigers took an 11-inning battle from the leading Browns, 3-2.

While the Yankees were being defeated by the Red Sox, 5-2, the Bostonians found the southern Roy's curves to their liking while Jack

Quinn, a former Yank, allowed but five hits.

Speaker's Indians were shut out by the White Sox, 3-0, while the Jack-

C. M. A. C. TO PLAY FAST FIELD COMPLETE FOR MANCHESTER TEAM $50,000 RACE

Manager Marcotte of the C.M.A.C. has announced today that he has signed up the famous St. Mary's team of Manchester, N. H., to play some of the most important races of the season.

The St. Mary's team won the championship of the C.M.A.C. last season, and is out to repeat its success this season. It is composed of a number of former college and high school players, and has a fine record on the diamond.

Manager Marcotte is very anxious to have the best of the C.M.A.C. teams, and he has assembled a class aggregation for tomorrow's game. His lineup will consist of the following players: Warren White, Buck Freeman, Pop Williams, Freddie Crowe, Tommy Green, C. Marcotte, Fred Glendon, Ber- tie, Joe Farrell, Fred Glendon, Ber- tie, Triville and Reagan. The game will start at 3 o'clock.

Why Woman Will Go to Gallows

Despite Plea of Prosecutor

BY DUDLEY A. SIDDALL

ATLANTA, Ga., June 23.—Twelve southern men have voted to hang a southern woman.

This in Georgia, a state famous for the chivalry of its men toward its women.

Date of execution is set for July 28. Good grounds exist for the statement of Col. William Schley Howard, prominent Atlanta lawyer, that women are tumbling from their man-created pedestal and must pay the same penalty for crime as men, because of—

Woman suffrage and invasion of men's fields in business.

He cites Georgia's well known antipathy toward the suffrage movement, in interpreting the verdict in the case of Mrs. Cora Vinson. She shot and killed her husband, Dr. W. D. Vinson, in his Atlanta office last March.

"I have never asked a jury to send a woman to the gallows," said Solicitor General John A. Boykin to the jury, "and I won't begin now. Therefore I ask a verdict of guilty with a recommendation of mercy." His request was, in effect, for a life sentence.

Jury Orders Death

Yet the jury returned with a verdict of guilty without a recommendation for mercy. There was nothing for Judge John D. Humphries to do but sentence Mrs. Vinson to hang.

Lawyers, officials and citizens were amazed at the action of the jurors. As such crimes go, this was no more shocking than scores for which women have been free or sent to prison. Only once, 50 years ago, has a white woman been hanged in Georgia.

Col. Howard, native Georgian, keen student of public opinion, three times a member of congress, and engaged by Dr. Vinson's son to aid the state in prosecuting the young man's stepmother, played an active part in the trial. He watched every move. Here

"The men of Georgia have always been noted for their chivalry toward women. They have held women on a pedestal. In the past this chivalry has been carried into our jury rooms. It has been almost impossible for a jury of men to find a woman guilty of a serious crime."

"But of late years," Col. Howard continued, "the women of Georgia, like women of other states, have shown a tendency to come down from this man-created pedestal. They have demanded equal rights in politics and business. In every way they have indicated their desire to be treated as men."

"Why then should a woman—solely on sex grounds—be accorded any special privilege by a jury?"

Col. Howard's views are partly borne out by an expression from E. L. Bradley, who was foreman of the Vinson jury.

"I believe," said Bradley, "that a woman should pay the same penalty for crime as a man. There have been recently several atrocious murders of husbands by their wives. The women have gotten off with light sentences, owing to the fact that a prison term for 'life' means the convict is eligible for parole after three years. The jurors felt it their duty to their sworn word and the state to bring in this verdict."

Was Premeditated

It was established that Mrs. Vinson killed her husband after premeditation. She had persuaded him to deed her his property. Not long ago he applied for divorce.

The doctor was 65, his wife 44. Both had previously been married when they went to the altar 20 years ago. For the last six years they lived a quarrelsome existence, culminating in the divorce action brought by the doctor a few months ago. To block the divorce, the wife, unsuccessfully tried to have herself adjudged insane.

Was it his property or the man she wanted?

"I loved my husband," says Mrs. Vinson.

Sane? Yes, she is sane. Married first at 14, she had only the education that falls to a mountain-born woman whose childhood was spent in the cotton mills. But she is intelligent, answers questions directly, and is "a model prisoner."

"She ought to be set free," says her 17-year-old married daughter who comes to visit her every day and who, on the slender income of a part-time city fireman's wife, is caring for two smaller children by the Vinson marriage.

"She ought to hang," says her stepson, who engaged counsel to help the state send Mrs. Vinson to the gallows.

Lawyers Puzzled

Criminal lawyers admit they are puzzled by the action of the jury. Women's status when in the dock for murder, they say, may be changing on account of woman suffrage and woman's entrance into business with men.

"The verdict in the Vinson case is incomprehensible to me and other lawyers," stated Judge Newton A. Morris of Marietta, Ga., former circuit judge of the Blue Ridge circuit and ex-speaker of the Georgia house of representatives. He, with two other expert criminal lawyers, John T. Dorsey and Sam Hewlett, have undertaken the defense despite the fact that the only fee in sight was the proffered—and quickly declined—diamond ring of the 17-year-old daughter.

"In my long legal experience," continued Judge Morris, "I have never had a greater surprise than when the jury went beyond the verdict asked and voted to hang Mrs. Vinson."

Be sure to read the Editorial and News Feature Section of next Sunday's Boston Globe.

SHE SEEKS TO SAVE MOTHER, CONDEMNED

ATLANTA, Ga., June 23.—Every day a soft-voiced, light-haired girl of 17 presents herself at the barred doors of Atlanta's jail, "the Tower." She calls to see her mother, Mrs. Cora Vinson, who is condemned to be hanged on July 28 for the murder of Dr. W. D. Vinson, husband of the condemned woman and father of the girl.

The daughter is Mrs. Pauline Brown. She believes her mother was justified in killing her father.

TWO MEN INJURED

Motorcycle Turns Turtle After Hitting Telegraph Pole

William Carlton of 41 Pine Hill st. and John Ryan of 20 Carter street were injured last evening when the motorcycle in which they were riding turned turtle in First street after colliding with a telegraph pole. Archibald Ramsay of 16 Pine Hill street, who was driving the cycle, escaped uninjured. The accident occurred at about 10 o'clock at a point near the car barn. Ramsay claims that he became blinded by the headlights of an automobile and misjudging his distance, he drove his cycle against the pole. Carlton and Ryan were taken to St. John's hospital by Samuel M. Davis of Nashua, N. H. Ramsay returned to his home after receiving treatment, but Carlton was kept for observation. His injuries are not considered serious.

WILL ATTEND HEARING IN WASHINGTON

Dr. Patrick J. Dagle, president, and Counsellors Smith J. Adams, Edward Appleton and Frank H. Stearns will make up the delegation representing the city at the hearing to be held in Washington in July on the Merrimack river navigation project. It is expected, also, that City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney will be one of the party. When the mayor decided that he would be unable to make the trip, he asked President Dagle to go in his place. This left another chance for a councillor. Counsellor Adams was named by the president as the framer of the order and last night names of other councillors who would be able to go were placed in a hat. The two drawn were Messrs. Appleton and Stearns.

Output

There are still a few New England cigar smokers left who remember the first J. A. delivery van—a gigantic cigar box body—drawn by a spanking highstepper. We thought we were big then, but today a fleet of fast motor trucks deliver more cigars every working day than we used to make in a whole week in the days of the horse-drawn van.

This steady growth proves that our policy of—"making and selling the very best cigar at its price"—is sound. Our determination never to allow the quality of J. A. to fall from the standard set 59 years ago tells you why the quality of J. A. is always the same.

J. A.'s cost more to make because we use only the highest grade leaf and employ only highly skilled union workers, but this extra cost to us means extra satisfaction to you.

NEW WIRE INSPECTOR TO SPEAK AT CITY HALL

Charles L. Gallagher Has Had 11 Years of Experience in Electrical Business

Charles L. Gallagher, elected city superintendent of wires, to succeed William H. Mahan, will not qualify for the office before the city clerk until next Monday. He was at city hall today, however, talking over the affairs of the department with Mr. Mahan.

Mr. Gallagher's election bears the seal of approval of the local union of electrical workers, who endorsed him for the place a week or so ago. He is a comparatively young man with 11 years of experience in electrical work. He has served as foreman for the Lawrence Electric Supply & Construction company and the Hanley Electric company, also of Lawrence and has been connected with his brother, James P. Gallagher in the latter's business in this city. For a time, Mr. Gallagher was with the Federal Electrical company of Boston and had charge of a large construction job in Amesbury. He holds a master electrician's and also a journeyman's license.

Mr. Gallagher served 19 months in the navy during the world war and for 16 months went to the electric plant under navy supervision in New York and New London.

His home is at 117 Methuen street. William H. Mahan, whose position Mr. Gallagher will assume, has been the local superintendent of wires for 11 years and has made a thorough study of the city's electrical system. His future plans are rather uncertain, he said today.

FOR DISABLED VETERANS

K. of C. Extend Use of Grounds to Disabled Veterans of World War

Use of the Genoa club grounds in Tyngsboro during the hot weather was extended to the local chapter of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War by Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, at its regular meeting last night in the Associate building headquarters. The proposal, submitted by Grand Knight John E. Hart, was accepted by a unanimous vote, the members recognizing the worth of the project. These Tyngsboro grounds cover a wide area, and should prove an ideal spot for outdoor life. It will allow the recuperating veterans to secure all the benefits of country life within easy reach of the city.

The coming of the Catholic Truth guild auto van next Sunday afternoon was also prepared for. Members of the guild will speak on Catholic doctrine and principles in Monument square. Grand Knight Hart appointed the following committee to assist in the arrangements for the meeting: Andrew Molloy, Dr. John T. Donohue, Dr. James P. Gaffney, Patrick J. Nevin, Joseph W. Green, Joseph A. Hinde, Thomas J. Harte, Charles J. Leander, D. R. K. Roger J. Laue, Dr. K. Hugh C. McKee, John J. McAdams, John V. Donoghue, James J. Gallagher, Henry P. Doran and Thomas A. Glutz. The committee is to meet at 230 in the K. of C. rooms, and the guild meeting is scheduled to open at 2 o'clock.

Best printing, Tobin's, Associate bldg. Fire and liability insurance, Daniel J. O'Brien, Wyman's Exchange. Beautiful electric lamps, all sizes; $1.50 thermos bottles for 60c. Electric Shop, 62 Central street.

During the brief lightning storm of last evening a fire broke out out of commission on Pawtucket street. The incident occurred at 6:35, and at 7:10 the damage was repaired, and car service resumed.

The local American Legion post has received orders from the war department to the effect that the red chevrons ordered to be worn by all soldiers dismissed from service, has been abandoned and in the future the unit will not have to be worn by ex-service members.

Miss Frances Slattery of this city was bridesmaid at the wedding of Mr. James Dowling of Norwood and Miss Margaret M. Slattery of Canton, which took place at St. John's church, Canton, Wednesday. Mr. Charles E. Gallagher of this city acted as one of the ushers.

David Goldstein and Mrs.
Avery on Auto Van Tour
Here Sunday Afternoon

The pioneer lay outdoor-campers whose object is acclaimed to be "to make the Catholic church better known and loved" are booked to visit this city Sunday afternoon.

The lecturers are Mrs. Martha Moore Avery, president of the Catholic Truth Guild, and David Goldstein, the national lecturer of the Knights of Columbus. They are two converts to the Catholic faith. One hails from Yankee Mayflower, Revolutionary and Civil war stock, and the other from Hebraic ancestry, those who longer for the Messiah. Mr. Goldstein believes he has found him in Jesus of Nazareth.

Mrs. Avery and Mr. Goldstein are well known throughout the country as foremost defenders of American institutions and Christian civilization against the socialist-Bolshevik elements no matter what their form of manifestation. Their books, "Socialism: The Nation of Fatherless Children," and "Bolshevism: Its Cure," have a world-wide standing among men high in civic, economic and religious life.

These lecturers will appear in front of city hall early in the afternoon, where they will talk from their "speaking platform." Their work has the endorsement of Cardinal O'Connell and twenty-three other archbishops and bishops of the Catholic church.

In the publicity announcement sent out we are informed that the speakers do not come to make any attack upon persons or the religious beliefs that are not in accord with those they seek to advance, but rather to set forth frankly with Christian courtesy those truths that when understood lead to a better feeling among good Americans of different beliefs and practices.

Commenced from the Knights of Columbus and the League of Catholic Women will have charge of the meeting which will open at 3 o'clock sharp.

WILL TRANSFER FUNDS TO NEW COUNCIL

Largely attended meetings of the Nathan Hale and the Oliver Plunkett councils of the A.A.R.R. were held last evening in their respective districts. The committee on the transfer of funds in each case to transfer their funds and memberships to the new council formed in A.O.H. hall a couple of weeks ago, and also voted in favor of transferring the funds in the central council treasury to the new council.

A big meeting will be held in A.O.H. hall Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock to complete the organization of the new council, and the Irish bond subscribers lists will be distributed by those in charge of each district.

Capt. Paul Kittredge council of Belvidere will hold a meeting tonight to take action on the matter of affiliation with the new council.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT COURT ADJOURNS HERE

Four Liquor Cases Net $400
—Fines Collected in Quick Order

What is thought to be a record in the matter of collecting money, as the result of illegal liquor traffic, was made this morning in district court, with Judge Thomas J. Enright on the bench, when $400 was taken from four different parties all in the space of about three minutes.

Four offenders faced the court and all pleaded guilty to illegal keeping. They were Elias Michalides, Floyd A. Cox, George Jurewicz and Jurek Matulewicz. As each walked up to the bar and placed gully in answer to the reading of the charges, the court said, "First offense, Mr. Clerk, make it $100."

The offenders seemed eager to get their trials over with. In fact, one of them, Matulewicz, was so anxious to get back to work that he couldn't wait for the session of the juvenile court to finish and insisted that he be taken in there and tried. He was accommodated and in less than one minute after he had entered the portals, he emerged minus $100 perfectly good American dollars.

Cox, who was a coal-miner, and who has been living in this city but a short while, coming here from the west, was visited by Capt. Palmer and his squad yesterday afternoon in Perkins street.

The members of the liquor squad had been tipped evidently to the best time to make the raid for they found contraband being served at the time of their arrival. In the cellar 33 cases of good beer were found and confiscated. Seven quarts of fine quality moonshine were taken in the raid. In addition to Captain Palmer, Officers Cossette, Lynch, Trudell and Maloney made up the squad.

William J. Chittin pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was sentenced to the house of correction for three months. Sentence was suspended for one year.

In passing sentence on Elnathin Hamopoulos, whom he found guilty of non-support, the court said that he had little sympathy for men who attempted to defend the wives' character. He was sentenced to the house of correction for three months. Sentence was suspended for one year.

GRAHAM—The funeral of Mary Frances Graham took place yesterday afternoon from the funeral parlors of Undertaker J. W. McKenna in Bridge street. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery.

WANNER—Israel Wanner, aged 73 years, died this morning at the Lowell General hospital. He leaves his wife and several children. The body was removed to the home, 108 Chelmsford street, from which the funeral took place at 11:30 o'clock. Burial was in the Hebrew cemetery in Peabody, N. H., under the direction of Undertakers Amodeo Archambault & Son.

SIX CANDIDATES IN 14TH DISTRICT
When Patrick F. Nestor, of 248 Stackpole street, today took out papers at the office of the board of election commissioners for the democratic nomination for representative in the 14th district, he made the sixth candidate already in the field in a fight for the two places now held by Representatives Brennan and Blawie.

In this district, John P. McCarthy and Harry W. Leavitt have taken out papers for the republican nomination, while Frank J. Danahy, Richard J. Donohoe and John P. Miskell are the three others who seek the democratic nominations.

DRUGGISTS ARRANGE ANNUAL OUTING
The Lowell Druggists' association met last night and made arrangements for the annual outing which will be held on Thursday, July 13, at Whalom Park, Hingham. The usual program of sports and games will be carried on. The committee in charge is composed of the officers of the association, William H. Noonan, president, John W. Macdonald, vice-president, Frank Riggs, secretary, and Fred Jones, executive committee. The sporting events will be in charge of William Noonan, Frank Bigelow, Fred Burt, Harry Campbell and Lucien Brunelle.

The trip will be made by auto, and the stores of the members will close for the day.

FOR STENOGRAPHER AND TYPEWRITER
A federal examination for stenographer and typewriter for field service will be held in Rooms 25-26, high school annex, tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, and it is expected that about 15 or 20 candidates will be present. The examination will be conducted by Examiner Timothy J. Sullivan of the local postoffice.

WILL HOLD ANNUAL OUTING MONDAY
The annual outing of St. Patrick's Boys' school, twice postponed, will be held at Tyngsboro next Monday. Five special cars will leave Broadway and Dutton streets at 8:30 and return at 4.

Civil Session of Superior Court Adjourned Today—
32 Cases Tried

The civil session of the superior court with Justice, which opened at the Gorham street court house April 3, was adjourned indefinitely this afternoon by Justice Flynn.

In the course of the session 32 cases, including actions of tort and contracts, were tried and of that number 15 verdicts were returned for the plaintiffs. There were a great number of other cases that were scheduled to go to trial that were not tried because of settlements out of court and defaults.

The court opened April 3 with Justice Lawton on the bench and continued for five weeks. Then adjournment was taken to Cambridge until June 5, at which time the court returned to this city. On June 5 adjournment was again taken until June 19 and when court reconvened Justice Flynn presided.

The jurors who served at this session were as follows: Wilfrid J. Achin, Lowell; Albert C. Blaisdell, Tewksbury; Thomas J. Bruen, Cambridge; George H. Bywater, Groton; Patrick Calnan, Woburn; Frank W. Carter, Ashby; George Clarkson, Reading; William Conroy, Billerica; Frank W. Crosby, Billerica; George E. Fuller, Wilmington; Elvian Gendreau, Lowell; George R. Gilchrist, Townsend; Arthur K. Green, Groton; Ray L. Harris, Pepperell; William J. Hurley, Ayer; William Kullings, Lowell; Walter Knowles, Shirley; John J. Lahey, Braintree; Chasman O. Leadbetter, Lowell; Joseph H. Lecom, Lowell; Willie L. Littleleaf, Tyngsboro; Amos B. Nallete, Pepperell; William E. Newton, Braintree; Romaine G. C. Nichols, Wilmington; William J. Quinn, Lowell; Michael J. Quinn, Lowell; Walter R. Titcomb, Littleton, and Walter Peckham, Chelmsford.

ST. PETER'S SCHOOL
St. Peter's parochial school on Gorham street closed its school year today with the customary order of exercises. During the morning session the usual promotions to higher classes were made and the routine business connected with the occasion executed by the Sisters of Charity of Lowell, who are in charge of the school.

The third graduating class of the school will conduct its exercises in St. Peter's church at 3 o'clock, Sunday afternoon. A splendid musical program has been arranged for the school choir, with Miss Gertrude Quigley presiding at the organ. The service will be followed by the presentation of the diplomas. The benediction of the blessed sacrament will be a feature of the graduating exercises.

Somebody Stole
JOE'S SPARE TIRE
The life of an auto owner is just one trouble after another. When an auto owner happens to be a respected officer of the district court, if anyone takes exception to the above statement he has only to get in touch with Probation Officer Cronin and put the question. It would be well to do it from a distance. "How are the tires on your new auto holding out?"

Mr. Cronin might answer the question in any number of ways, included among them being: "One of them is being held out unless somebody is kidding me." The fact of the matter is, Mr. Cronin drove his trusty machine down town one night recently and hearing in a rather light frame of mind, things smoothly the way in court, decided to make a few peeps at the flickering silver screen.

Whereupon he properly parked the auto and as properly saw to it that the head lights and tail light conformed to the regulations of the law and hid himself to a theatre.

The picture show Blood-thirsty Jim snook up on an unsuspecting auto and take from the back of it a perfectly good spare tire. Whereupon Mr. Cronin said to himself, "That's the meanest thing I've seen for a long time." But Blood-thirsty Jim was captured in the last act and sentenced to ten years of hard labor ironing out the rough spots in roads of the wash-board variety.

With visions of a restful night between the sheets the probation officer emerged from the theatre. He went around to the rear of his car to see if the tail light was still burning, when he noticed his spare tire was missing. With ten-fold sympathy for the victim of the movies the probation officer slowly drove homeward thinking the while that a meaner thief had been discovered than the one in the movies—one who would steal his spare tire.
